PROSECUTOR INDICTED BY DOG TRACK GRAND JURY

State's Attorney Alvin Bohm Accused of "Willful and Deliberate Failure" to Perform Duty in Madison County.

OTHERS CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY

Richard Wilder, President of Kennel Club Alleged to Have Offered Judge Miller $25,000 Bribe—Ex-Sheriff Named.

Indictment chaging conspiracy, malfeasance in office, attempted bribery and operation of a gaming house were returned in Circuit Court at Edwardsville today by a special grand jury appointed to investigate operation of the Madison Kennel Club dog track.

State's Attorney Alvin C. Bohm was indicted on a charge of malfeasance in office with the allegation of "willful and deliberate failure to perform duty as State's Attorney," and of ignoring Court orders to close the track.

Another indictment, charging conspiracy to violate the law by operating a common gambling house, names the following defendants:

State's Attorney Bohm.

Richard Wilder of Alton, president of the Madison Kennel Club.

Edward J. O'Hare of St. Louis attorney for the International Greyhound Association.

George E. Little, former Treasurer and former Sheriff of Madison County, said to have an interest in the dog track company.

The Press-Record Publishing Co. of Granite City, said to have printed programs and other typographical matter for distribution at the track.

In a third indictment Wilder, the club president, is charged with an attempt to bribe Circuit Judge Henry Miller, a determined opponent of the Kennel Club, by offering him $25,000 to induce county officials from interfering with operation of the track. It is alleged the bribe offer was made through an agent at Judge Miller's home in Lebanon, Ill., on the night of June 17.

A fourth indictment, naming the Madison County Kennel Club as defendant, charges operation of a gaming house. It includes 212 counts covering 106 days of the club's operation.

Two additional indictments charging conspiracy to commit bribery, and bookmaking and peddling were also returned. The former, punishable by a penitentiary term of from three to five years, names the kennel club and its president, Wilder, as defendants. The latter names the club, Wilder, O'Hare, the attorney, and O'Neil, the manager, as defendants.

Report of Grand Jury.

The grand jury made the following report:

"The special grand jury impaneled in and for Madison County, State of Illinois, having heard the testimony of witnesses, now makes its reports as follows:

"1. The special grand jury has returned a number of indictments. These indictments speak for themselves. No comment will be made by this grand jury with reference to said indictments.

"2. The special grand jury has made its investigation to matters directly, or indirectly, growing out of the operation of the Madison Kennel Club, and to the influence of said club on politics and elections in Madison County, Ill.

"3. The special grand jury finds that the said Madison Kennel Club has for a number of years operated in violation of law; that certain officials of Madison County have failed to perform their full duties in and about the closing of said club; that said club has operated on a scale of such magnitude as to constitute its operation a social force in the community.

Tells of $25,000 Offer.

"4. The grand jury finds that two of the three Circuit Judges of the circuit in which Madison County is located have for some time been doing all within their power to bring about the closing of said club; that prior to the opening of May, 1931, term of the Circuit Court pressure was exerted on one of the two said Judges not to

BULK OF LIPTON'S ESTATE TO CHARITY

Total Value of Property Estimated at $3,885,000 When Will Is Read.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Sir Thomas Lipton left £80,000 sterling, worth $310,800 at the present rate of exchange, to the poor mothers and children of Glasgow, his native town, it was disclosed today when the will was read. It is estimated the total estate will exceed £1,000,000 ($3,885,000).

The Lipton country home at Ossidge is to be reserved as a home for nurses with an endowment of £20,000 (more than $75,000).

After payment of legacies to friends, employes and servants, the rest of the estate is to be divided among hospitals and charitable institutions in Glasgow, the town of Cambuslang, five miles from Glasgow, London and Middlesex.

Charitable bequests will consume most of the estate.

By the Associated Press.

GLASGOW, Scotland, Oct. 7.—Sir Thomas Lipton's native city paid him homage today at funeral services in St. George's Church.

Long lines of Glasgow folk filed past the bier, mingling with many of his closer friends. Interment was in the obscure little cemetery where his parents are buried. There were tributes from all parts of the world—floral anchors, shamrocks, Irish harps and lifebuoys. One of the most unusual was a model in flowers of the Leviathan, sent by the Captain and crew of the liner.

EDISON MUCH WORSE; END EXPECTED SOON

Doctor Reports 84-Year-Old Inventor Is in Semi-Conscious State.

By the Associated Press.

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Oct. 7.—Thomas A. Edison was described today by his physician, Dr. Hubert S. Howe, as mostly in a semi-conscious state preceding a coma from which he would not emerge.

A bulletin issued late this afternoon by Charles Edison, a son, said: "In spite of the fact that Mr. Edison's heart is standing the strain of his illness unexpectedly well, it is felt that he is losing ground. He seemed weaker this afternoon than this morning. No immediate emergency is expected, however."

Dr. Howe said the 84-year-old inventor was much weaker and could not sit without support. He also reported Edison found it increasingly difficult to take fluids, a condition which, because of his complication of ailments, has given concern all week.

President Hoover, through Lawrence Rickey of the White House secretariat, telephoned the Edison home this morning to ask for the latest report of the physician. The President requested that the physician's three bulletins each day be forwarded to him, and that if necessary he be informed of Edison's condition at more frequent intervals.

Edison this morning indicated a desire to sit in his chair, to which he was carried by Dr. Howe and a nurse, he was so weak he was returned to bed immediately.

After issuing his morning's bulletin, Dr. Howe said the inventor lay in a light sleep or doze most of the time. He regarded this as the beginning of a condition of coma.

Mrs. Edison remained in constant attendance in her husband's room, and Charles Edison stayed at his parents' home throughout the day.

Harvey Firestone, tire manufacturer, knelt beside the chair of his old friend last night and paid a touching tribute. He made no effort to talk to Edison. "I did not want to exert him," he explained.

Instead, Firestone pressed into his friend's hand a book Firestone had received at an anniversary celebration of the Columbiana, O., high school which he had attended in his youth. On the flyleaf Firestone had written: "To my friend, who gave me the richest education of the best things of life—Harvey Firestone."

Later Firestone explained that he valued the knowledge he had obtained in his years of association with Edison far above the technical knowledge he had acquired in school.

Edison smiled in recognition.

BRUENING CABINET OUT; HE IS RENAMED

Chancellor Directed by Hindenburg to Form Ministry That Will Consolidate Government's Position With Reichstag's.

DICTATORIAL POWERS OF RULER ENLARGED

New Decrees Issued May Be Stretched It Is Thought, to Abrogate Inviolability of the Person, Home and Mails.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Oct. 7.—President von Hindenburg accepted the resignations of the Bruening Cabinet today and immediately authorized Chancellor Bruening to form a new ministry which would consolidate the Government's position with the Reichstag's.

The President commissioned his Chancellor to form a nonpartisan Cabinet, whose members would be named strictly on a personal basis and without regard for their party affiliations. Bruening accepted the mandate and went to work with a free hand to choose his new coworkers.

The resignation of the entire Cabinet followed by one day that of Foreign Minister Curtius, who withdrew in the face of attacks on his handling of the Austro-German customs pact.

The present Cabinet was installed March 29, 1930, and has struggled with some of the most difficult problems in Germany's post-war history. Many of its members were considered to be liabilities because of the strong criticism from Left and Right factions and their withdrawal constituted a house-cleaning in preparation for the convening of the Reichstag next Tuesday.

Fresh Economies Ordered.

Thirty typewritten pages of new emergency decrees signed by President von Hindenburg will compel every German to tighten his belt again and reduce his life to the simplest economic terms.

They also will force anti-Government factions to watch their conduct closely lest they come in conflict with sweeping new powers which some observers say can be stretched to abrogate such fundamental rights as the inviolability of the person, the home and the mails.

The decrees cover such subjects as salaries in private industry, unemployment, debts of communes and states, agricultural relief, regulations for savings banks, extraordinary courts for tax shirkers and special powers for the police to quell subversive movements.

The preamble explains that, while the measures are diversified, all are calculated to "enable the Government and the people to adjust and readjust themselves to the hard necessities of the actual situation."

Some of the measures enacted are: Federal aid for communes and states in persuading foreign creditors to convert short-term into long-term loans; abrogation of long-term contracts by private firms with employes drawing annual salaries in excess of $3500; payment of one-third of unemployment doles in kind; halting of construction of administrative buildings for three years, and reduction of high pensions.

Back-to-Farm Movement.

A special federal commissioner will be appointed to advance the back-to-the-farm movement, especially in small agricultural settlements and where the unemployed gather along the fringe of cities. The capitalization of business concerns will be lowered to meet changed economic conditions.

Further decrees soon will follow, the preamble says, which, together with the present measures, will be intended to reduce prices generally and enable Germany "to safeguard her position in international negotiations, without which final solution of economic and financial difficulties is not possible."

Special courts will be constituted to try persons charged with acts of terrorism or of dodging taxes. Anyone knowing of the existence of illegal or subversive documents must report them to police, who are empowered to confiscate even the equipment on which they were printed. Clubs and other gathering places of radicals can be closed summarily by authorities.

New Head of London Police.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Lord Hugh Montague Trenchard, Marshal of the Royal Air Force since 1927 and a veteran of the World War, was appointed Commissioner of the Metropolitan Police today. He succeeds Lord Bying of Vimy, who retired recently because of ill health.

HOOVER PROPOSES BIG REDISCOUNT CORPORATION TO THAW FROZEN BANK ASSETS AS AID TO CREDIT AND TRADE

BANKERS APPROVE HOOVER PLAN BY CONVENTION VOTE

G. L. HARRISON HEADS PLAN COMMITTEE

Couzens Pleased With Program; 'Master Stroke,' Says Smoot; Other Comment.

By the Associated Press.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 7.—The American Bankers' Association in convention today enthusiastically voted approval of President Hoover's plan for a $500,000,000 bankers' pool as an aid to credit and trade.

The resolution read: "We heartily approve the plan of the President of the United States under which a $500,000,000 bank pool is being created for the purpose of meeting the discount demands of bankers who find it advisable in supplying the needs of the public to obtain funds from collateral of a character, which though sound, is not eligible for rediscount directly or indirectly with the Federal Reserve banks.

"The operation of this pool, which should be available for use by all sound banks, both state and national, should immediately remove the restriction upon credit throughout the United States that has been the cause of so much anxiety to bankers and the public and should serve to restablish confidence throughout the length and breadth of this country."

Confidence and Moratorium.

"The American Bankers' Association has implicit confidence in the ability of the people of the United States to meet successfully the unusual economic conditions with which they are confronted," the association said. "American credit is still the strongest in the world, and American money everywhere is recognized as the soundest in the world. The largest resources of our Federal Reserve Banks have been barely touched and are available to supply hundreds of millions of credit or currency.

"In spite of the storm which has affected every nation in the world, we have approximately 22,000 banks in the United States which are still upholding the high tradition of sound banking—faithfully serving their patrons and meriting the confidence and good will of the people."

On the Hoover moratorium and international relations, the convention "respectfully suggested to our Government the consideration of undertaking negotiations immediately toward accomplishing an extension of the moratorium until such time as seems necessary to allow sufficient recovery from present conditions to warrant the belief that adjusted payments can be resumed and that, previous to the maturity of the moratorium, the capacity to pay of the nations concerned be reconsidered."

Bankers Expect to Have Working Plan by End of Week.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Leading New York bankers, working today on details of the $500,000,000 credit corporation proposed by President Hoover for the relief of banks, indicated they expected to have a working plan ready by the end of the week.

The reaction to the proposal has been most favorable, bankers say. It is believed a maximum of $800,000,000 might be raised among banks of the country, although it is believed nothing has been done toward approaching banks outside New York City.

Bankers pointed out that the credit corporation should remove the weight of necessitous liquidation from the securities markets and have a distinctly stabilizing effect particularly upon bonds. Financial institutions have been forced to dump large blocks of bonds upon an unsettled market, resulting in severe depression of prices.

Text of President's Announcement Of the Several Points in His Plan

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.

FOLLOWING is the statement given out by President Hoover early this morning following a conference at the White House with Senate and House leaders:

The prolongation of the depression by the succession of events in Europe, affecting as they have both commodity and security prices, has produced in some localities in the United States an apprehension wholly unjustified in view of the thousand-fold resources we have for meeting any demand.

Foolish alarm in these sections has been accompanied by wholly unjustifiable withdrawal of currency from the banks.

Such action results in limiting the ability of the banks in these localities to extend credit to business men and farmers for the normal conduct of business, but beyond this to be prepared to meet the possibility of unreasoning demands of depositors the banks are compelled to place their assets in liquid form by sales of securities and restriction of credits so as to enable them to meet unnecessary and unjustified drains. This affects the conduct of banking further afield.

Impediment to Recovery.

It is unnecessary to specify the unfortunate consequences of such a situation in the districts affected both in its further effect on national prices of agricultural products, upon securities and upon the normal conduct of business and employment of labor.

It is a deflationary factor and a definite impediment to agricultural and business recovery.

There is no justification for any such situation in view of the strength of our banking system, and the strong position of our Federal Reserve System. Our difficulty is a diffusion of resources and the primary need is to mobilize them in such a way as to restore in a number of localities the confidence of the banker in his ability to continue normal business and to dispel any conceivable doubt in the mind of those who do business with him.

Outlines Program.

In order to deal with this wholly abnormal situation and to bring about an early restoration of confidence, unity of action on the part of our bankers and co-operative action on the part of the Government is essential. Therefore, I propose the following definite program of action, to which I ask our citizens to give their full cooperation:

1. To mobilize the banking resources of the country to meet these conditions, I request the bankers of the nation to form a national institution of at least $500,000,000. The purpose of this institution to be the rediscount of banking assets not now eligible for rediscount at the Federal Reserve banks in order to assure our banks, being sound, that they may attain liquidity in case of necessity, and thereby enable them to continue their business without the restricton of credits or the sacrifice of their assets.

I have been advised by them that it will receive their support, and that at my request they will assume the leadership in the formation of such an organization. The members of the New York City Clearing House Association have unanimously agreed to contribute their share by pledging $150,000,000, which is 2 per cent of their net demand and time deposits.

Assurance of Support.

I have been assured from other large centers, as far as I have been able to reach, of their support also. I consider that it is in the national interest, including the interest of all individual banks and depositors, that all the banks of the country should support this movement to their full responsibility.

It is a movement of national assurance and of unity of action in an American way to assist business, employment and agriculture.

2. On Sept. 8 I requested the governors of the Federal Reserve banks to endeavor to secure the co-operation of the bankers of their territory to make some advances on the security of the assets of closed banks or to take over some of these assets in order that the receivers of those banks may pay some dividends to their depositors in advance of what would otherwise be the case pending liquidation.

Reverse Deflation Process.

Such a measure will contribute to free many business activities and to relieve many families from hardship over the forthcoming winter, and in a measure reverse the process of deflation involved in the tying up of deposits. Several of the districts have already made considerable progress to this end, and I request that it should be taken up vigorously as a community responsibility.

3. In order that the above program of unification and solidarity of action may be carried out and that all parts of the country be enlisted, I request that governors of the Federal Reserve banks in each district secure the appointment of working committees of bankers for each reserve district to cooperate with the New York group and in carrying out the other activities which I have mentioned.

4. I shall propose to the Congress that the eligibility provisions of the Federal Reserve act should be broadened in order to give greater liquidity to the assets of the banks, and thus a greater assurance to the bankers in the granting of credits by enabling them to obtain legitimate accommodations on sound security in times of stress. Such measures are already under consideration by the Senate Committee upon Currency and Banking.

New Finance Corporation.

5. Furthermore, if necessity requires, I will recommend the creation of a finance corporation similar in character and purpose to the War Finance Corporation, with available funds sufficient for any legitimate call in support of credit.

6. I shall recommend to Congress the subscription of further capital stock by the Government to the Federal land banks (as was done at their founding) to strengthen their resources so that on the one hand the farmer may be assured of such accommodation as he may require and on the other hand their credit may be of such high character that they may obtain their funds at low rates of interest.

7. I have submitted the abovementioned proposals which require legislation to the members of Congress whose attendance I was able to secure on short notice at this evening's meeting — being largely the members of committees particularly concerned—and they approve of them in principle.

Approaching Visit of Laval.

8. Premier Laval of France is visiting the United States. It is my purpose to discuss with him the question of such further arrangements as are imperative during the period of the depression in respect to intergovernmental debts. The policy of the American Government in this matter is well known and was set out by me in a public statement on June 20 in announcing the American proposal for a year's postponement of debt payments.

Our problem in this respect is one of such adjustment during the period of depression as will at the same time aid our own and world recovery. This being a subject first of negotiation with foreign Governments was not submitted for determination at this evening's conference.

9. The times call for unity of action on the part of our people. We have met with great difficulties not of our own making. It requires determination to overcome these difficulties and, above all, to restore and maintain confidence. Our people owe it not only to themselves and in their own interest, but they can, by such an example of stability and purpose, give hope and confidence in our own country and to the rest of the world.

NEW YORK BANKS TAKE LEAD IN BACKING HALF BILLION PLAN

CONGRESS LEADERS PROMISE SUPPORT

Thirty-Two House and Senate Members, Mellon and Meyer, Discuss Project at White House; Six Points in Program.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—A six-point program for marshaling the nation's latent buying power into commercial channels today is before the American people with the indorsement of President Hoover and political captains in both parties called into conference by him.

This is the President's program:

1. Creation of a half-billion-dollar private credit agency to handle credits unacceptable to the Reserve Banks.
2. Liquidation of some of the frozen assets of insolvent banks.
3. Appointment of regional bankers' committees to aid generally in credit expansion.
4. Liberalization of the rules to permit Reserve Banks to handle a wider variety of securities.
5. If necessary, creation of a Government credit agency similar to the old War Finance Corporation.
6. Strengthening of the resources of the Federal Land Banks to further accommodate the farmer.

$150,000,000 Subscribed.

For the private corporation proposed to raise $500,000,000 to aid banks that have closed their doors, the President said $150,000,000 had been subscribed within the last few days by the New York City Clearing House Association.

"I have been assured from other large centers," Mr. Hoover said, "as far as I have been able to reach, of their support also. I consider that it is in the national interest, including the interest of all individual bankers and depositors that all the banks of the country should support this movement to their full responsibility. It is a movement of national assurance and of unity of action in an American way to assist business, employment and agriculture."

Mr. Hoover expects the proposed $500,000,000 agency soon to begin turning frozen banking assets into cash for trade channels. Secretary Mellon indicated confidence that the fund would be raised.

Asks for Program Support.

The President asks for the full support of the people for this program, which in its major points includes a liberalization of the Government's own rediscount restrictions to permit acceptance of certain classes of industrial securities now ineligible, as well as creation of a $500,000,000 corporation by private bankers to handle the frozen paper of insolvent banks and supply some cash soon to hard-pressed depositors, and expansion of the Federal Land Bank system to provide more adequate credit accommodations for agriculture.

Placed before a bi-partisan conference of congressional leaders last night at the White House, the administration's domestic plan won their support in principle. While congressional action will be required eventually to carry the program to completion, no special session is contemplated.

The President failed, however, to gain sanction for him to discuss with Premier Laval of France, on the latter's visit to Washington this month, extension beyond next June of the intergovernmental debt moratorium. He was told that any discussions of this kind

CRITICISM MIXED WITH PRAISE FOR HOOVER PROPOSALS

'Extraordinary Attempt to Get Congress Leaders to Underwrite Next Message,' Says Garner.

BANKING RELIEF IDEA IS APPROVED

Post-Dispatch Bureau,
201-205 Kellogg Bldg.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—President Hoover's new plan for arresting the depression, and his method of announcing it last night to about 40 members of Congress whom he had summoned to the White House, was widely commented upon among Democrats and Progressives today and not without criticism.

The commonest criticism was one which came from Republicans as well as Democrats including some who attended the conference. They declared President Hoover made it plain that he favors an extension of the one-year moratorium on war debt payments, but that he wanted them to take the responsibility for sponsoring it.

Representative John Garner of Texas, Democratic leader and possible speaker of the next House, who was present last night, said today that if the President desires the help of Congress in combatting the depression he should call it into special session. Nothing can be accomplished, he declared, by summoning individual members to the White House.

"Extraordinary," Says Garner.

It was learned that Garner was the most outspoken of the President's guests last night. When Mr. Hoover finished reading the outline of his program, with a request for approval, Garner said:

"Mr. President, this is the most extraordinary proposal I ever heard of. You are practically asking us to help write your next message to the next Congress, and to underwrite it before it is sent."

The President replied: "Mr. Garner, this is an extraordinary situation."

The President's announcement of a plan to liquefy the bank situation by the organization of a $500,000,000 bankers' corporation which will take over assets now frozen in the banks, made an immediately favorable impression on those present. However, it was pointed out that the plan does not require the approval of Congress. Indeed, the President disclosed that a substantial start toward formation of the corporation already has been made in New York.

Members of Congress also were willing to approve, at least "in principle," the President's recommendation to modify the Federal reserve act, to give greater liquidity to the assets of Federal Reserve banks; his suggestion of a possible revival of the War Finance Corporation, and his recommendation of additional Government subscriptions to the Federal Land Banks—although several made it plain that they would like more details before committing themselves any further.

Dissent on Debt Suspension.

But when the President went on to say that he purposed, during the forthcoming visit of Premier Laval of France, to discuss such "further arrangements as are imperative" with regard to debt suspension, he stirred up objection among Democrats and Republicans alike.

Senator Borah (Rep.), Idaho, made it plain that he would agree to no further moratorium until the nations of Europe make substantial reductions in their expenditures for armament.

Senator Watson, Republican leader in the Senate; Garner, and several others declared themselves opposed to any move which would lead to debt cancellation.

It was suggested that if the President wished to ascertain the feeling of Congress on this subject, the way to do it was by calling a special session. Some of those present, it is said, resented the fact that the question had been presented to them under such circumstances, fearing that their attitude might be misunderstood by their constituents.

The consensus of informed opinion here today was that the most significant feature of the President's program was that involving the creation of a huge bankers' corporation to rediscount assets now in frozen banks. The bank situation, especially in New York, has been an increasing cause of anxiety in recent weeks, and several conferences have been held at the White House to discuss it.

Hoover Proposes Credit Aid Plan

In making public the proposals which had brought Democratic and Republican leaders to Washington from all parts of the country, he said "foolish alarm" was delaying the return of better times. The prolongation of the depression by the succession of events in Europe," he said, "affecting as they have both commodity and security prices, has produced in some localities in the United States an apprehension wholly unjustified in view of the thousandfold resources which we have for meeting any demand.

"Foolish alarm in these sections has been accompanied by wholly unjustifiable withdrawal of currency from the banks. * * * There is no justification for any such situation in view of the strength of our banking system, and the strong position of our Federal Reserve system.

"Our difficulty is a diffusion of resources and the primary need is to mobilize them in such a way as to restore in a number of localities the confidence of the banker in his ability to continue normal business and to dispel any conceivable doubt in the mind of those who do business with him."

32 Party Leaders Present.

Most of the 32 Senators and Representatives who heard the program serve on committees dealing with the questions involved. Also present were Secretary Mellon, Undersecretary Mills of the Treasury, Governor Meyer of the Federal Reserve Board, and Walter Newton, one of the President's secretaries.

As the President completed reading his proposals, the proposed discussion of the moratorium with Premier Laval was challenged by Chairman Borah of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and Representative Garner, the Democratic leader of the House.

Senator Glass of Virginia, a former Democratic Secretary of the Treasury, recalled that suggestions that the Reserve system be permitted to expand the base of discountable securities were now under consideration by the Senate Banking Committee.

The chief executive said he had last month requested the governors of the Federal Reserve Banks to secure the co-operation of bankers in their territory to make some advances on the security of the assets of closed banks. He sought to have these institutions take over some of these assets in order that the receivers may pay some dividends to their depositors in advance of what would otherwise be the case pending liquidation.

Representative Garner explained after the meeting that the setting up of the $500,000,000 agency would require no legislation. The Democrats stipulated, in agreeing in principle to reorganization of the War Finance Corporation, that the step be taken only in event bankers failed to subscribe fully to the private agency.

At the President's meeting he sat behind a small desk at one end of the room, surrounded by the bi-partisan congressional delegation on upholstered chairs and sofas. Secretary Mellon took a back seat.

The Democratic leaders, Senator Robinson of Arkansas and Representative Garner of Texas, were on their feet several times. They informed the President that, while they considered politics a function of Government, they had no intention of playing politics with financial distress. Again, as the session came to a close, several of the Democratic spokesmen emphasized to Mr. Hoover that they were agreeing to the program only in "principle."

Mr. Hoover's disclosure that he intended to discuss the moratorium stirred up the most spirited exchange. Borah was promptly on his feet asking if Mr. Hoover's statement meant to imply that those present approved any extension of the moratorium. Representative Garner vigorously spoke against any extension. He reminded the President that he had not approved even the one-year debt holiday now in effect.

The President was reported as hopeful of support of the group in his proposal to discuss, at least, the moratorium with Premier Laval of France. The congressional conferees, then asked him to announce such plans on his own responsibility.

Senator Glass gave warning against public expectation of too great a broadening of the authority for discounting paper. Senator Walsh (Dem.), Montana, inquired of Glass what paper he would regard as objectionable for discount by the Federal Reserve System and the Virginian gave examples. He left the impression that he would favor only a conservative liberalization of present law.

It was Representative Luce, Massachusetts, a Republican member of the House Banking Committee, who insisted that the proposal for recreation of the War Finance Corporation be approved only "if necessary." He was joined by several Democrats in this contention, which was accepted.

The proposal for increasing the capitalization of the Federal Land Banks developed a suggestion from one Democratic source for a moratorium to the farmers owing money to these banks. Glass called attention that the bonds of these banks were privately owned and that a moratorium for the 8 per cent of borrowers who were unable to meet their payments would result in possible destruction of the system.

Those present: President Hoover, Secretary Mellon and Undersecretary Mills of the Treasury; Eugene Meyer, chairman of the Reserve Board, and Walter Newton, secretary to the President.

President Turns to the Financing of Home Building.

Gratified at the reception given by the congressional leaders to his proposals for spurring business, the President turned today to attack difficulties in the financing of home building. He called together a group of representative real estate men and bankers for further conferences at the White House.

Examination of reports has convinced him the present system by which first and some times second mortgages are placed on homes, to permit purchase on what amounts to an installment plan with the various commissions and discounts involved, is stifling home ownership and leading to the loss of many homes through foreclosure. He considers that nation-wide planning of housing and some form of established credit would have a definite effect on unemployment.

Twenty-five committees have been set to studying the various phases of the problem. One of these committees was embraced in today's conference—that dealing specifically with finances. A general meeting of the entire group has been called for Dec. 2-5.

Secretary Lamont, as chairman of the President's conference on home construction and ownership, headed those invited to meet at the White House.

announced today the personnel of the local bankers 'organization committee, which wiuu work out details of Mr. Hoover's proposed credit corporation. The chairman will be Mortimer N. Buckner, president of the New York Clearing House Association.

Other members of the committee are: Charles E. McCain, chairman of the board of Chase National Bank; Harry E. Ward, president of the Irving Trust Co.; George W. Davison, president of Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co.; Herbert C. Howell, president of Commercial National Bank & Trust Co., and Gordon F. Rentschler, president of National City Bank of New York.

Harrison said it was planned to name a board of directors of 12 members, one from each Federal Reserve district, to be selected by the Organization Committee.

"All banks throughout the country," the statement said, "will shortly be asked to participate in this undertaking to the extent of 2 per cent of their demand and time deposits.

"While the Organization Committee will issue the appropriate notices for filing subscriptions, nevertheless any bank desiring to participate may immediately advise the governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of its district of the amount of its subscription.

"This procedure will afford an immediate means by which all other banks may evidence their co-operation, pending the preparation of formal subscription blanks, which will be in the nature of an agreement to purchase debentures of the corporation as and when funds are required. The Organization Committee itself will, from time to time, make appropriate announcements of the progress of its work and define its procedure."

Proposed Working Plan.

It is proposed, according to the present plan, to incorporate a local institution under state law with a nominal capital. This institution will then issue something in the nature of debentures which will be held by the banks in exchange for their subscriptions to the pool. Funds will be handled by a working committee which will advance money to banks in need of cash.

Under the plan the borrowers will hypothecate securities which are not eligible for rediscount at the Federal Reserve Bank. These loans will be in the same category as collateral loans now made by banks to customers. It is possible that advances also may be made on real estate bonds, in the discretion of the committee. Loans will bear interest the same as collateral loans and in effect will mean no additional burden to borrowing banks, since they will be receiving interest on them from customers.

Similar to the 1914 Plan.

Bankers point out that the function of the proposed corporation will be similar to the Aldrich-Vreeland emergency currency plan organized in New York and at principal centers throughout the country in 1914 to relieve credit and currency stringency that arose after the outbreak of the war in Europe and before the Federal Reserve System was put into effect.

The Aldrich-Vreeland plan was purely an emergency measure for a few months. The plan superceded the method of issuing Clearing House loan certificates followed on previous occasions.

The Aldrich-Vreeland plan proved effective in giving banks all over the country relief by enabling them to get cash on their securities without selling them. The currency issued was accepted for Clearing House settlements. Bankers point out that the plan proved safe and say there is no record of any losses through advances to the banks.

The Foreign Situation.

Wall street bankers regard the President's reference to the international debt situation as constructive, but point out that immediate attention should be concentrated on domestic affairs, to break the continuity of deflation.

Several said permanent restoration of prosperity would require the stabilization of conditions in Great Britain and Germany, important customers for American goods.

Unofficial estimates of the volume of frozen credits in the country run as high as $4,000,000,000.

Dawes Sees Basis for Revival of Confidence.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Ambassador Dawes today said the President's credit plan was calculated to provide a basis for improved business activity.

"It is practical, so framed that its operation will be conducted under safe business principles, conducive to neither inflation nor unsound practices," he said.

"The psychological effects on business may be temporary, when their cause proves unfounded, but consummation of the President's plan with its consequent massing of the reserve strength of our enormously strong but scattered banking system, will give an enduring basis for a justified revival of confidence."

Senators Vandenburg and Carey Comment on Plan.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Senator Vandenburg (Rep), Michigan, commenting on the President's credit plan today, said: "The adequate emergency expansion of the Federal Reserve credit is alone enough to warrant the complete restoration of confidence of bank depositors and credit expansion in banks themselves. This in turn invites the resurgence of trade."

Senator Carey (Rep.), Wyoming, one of those present at the President's conference, expects the proposal to "restore the necessary credit and restore the confidence of the people in our banks." Today he said he felt that, "with the support pledged to the President last night, there will be no difficulty in enacting the legislation necessary."

Representative McFadden (Rep.), Pennsylvania, chairman of the House Banking Committee, said the suggestion for increasing the capital stock of the 12 Farm Land Banks "could not help but be beneficial to the system, and as a result of this increase would give additional latitude to the management of each of the banks which might result in few foreclosures."

He expects this action also to increase the marketability of bonds of the Land Bank system, which is their greatest source of funds. He said a capital stock increase of $5,000,000 for each bank was contemplated.

Smoot Finds President's Plan "Master Stroke."

By the Associated Press.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Oct. 7.—Senator Reed Smoot, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, today characterized the President's credit plan as "a master stroke." He said he expressed his approval yesterday when it was submitted to him from Washington by telephone.

The Senator said: "I know of nothing that could bring more confidence and more hope to the business and people of the country than the President's plan."

Senator Couzens Congratulates President on Plan.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 7.—Senator James Couzens today congratulated President Hoover on his plan to loosen bank credits and increase the general circulation of money.

"I am exceedingly pleased to see President Hoover has so clearly recognized a very dangerous and unhappy condition existing among many of our smaller banks," Couzens said. "I congratulate him on his energetic start to relieve this situation."

Robert O. Lord, president of the Detroit Guardian Union group of financial institutions, said the Hoover plan was "very constructive."

TWO GANGSTERS FOUND MURDERED IN AUTO

Bodies Discovered in Brooklyn Had Been Stuffed Into Burlap Bags.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The murdered bodies of two gangsters were found in burlap bags today in a parked automobile in the Bay Ridge section of Brooklyn.

Soon after the bodies were discovered by a laundryman on his morning rounds, one was identified through fingerprints as that of William Price, described by police as a bootlegger who once served a term in Atlanta prison for shooting a Federal officer.

The other body was tentatively identified by police as that of "Skip" Flanagan, also a racketeer with a police record and a companion of Price in liquor running.

Both men had been stabbed several times over the heart and strangled by gags held fast in Price's case by wire and in Flanagan's by adhesive tape.

Their hands and knees were trussed up with rope and then their bodies were stuffed into the bags. Efforts to trace a "William Santel," in whose name a license was issued for the car in which the bodies were found, proved fruitless.

WOMAN TEXTILE STRIKE LEADER AGAIN ARRESTED

By the Associated Press.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Oct. 7.—Edith Berkman, widely known textile labor leader, was arrested for speaking without a permit on Lawrence common today while 2000 striking woolen mill operatives jeered and hooted City Marshal Timothy O'Brien, who made the arrest.

About 20,000 textile workers are idle, as a result of a strike which resulted in the closing of three of the major mills in this vicinity. Three other large mills were seriously affected.

A citizens' committee has endeavored to adjust the prevailing differences between the mills' management and the workers who have protested against an announced wage reduction of 10 per cent.

Meanwhile, the National Textile Workers' Union, a Communist organization, has been active among the workers, chiefly through Miss Berkman.

State's Attorney Indicted By Dog Track Grand Jury

hold court in Madison County during the May term; that this attempt to prevent the sitting of said Judge was in order that the Madison Kennel Club be not molested; that said Judge so approached refused not to hold court in Madison County at the May term, and that when he did so he again renewed his opposition to the operation of said club; that no action was taken by the law enforcement officials; that later the second of said two Judges opposed to the operation of the said Madison Kennel Club was offered the sum of $25,000 if he would grant an injunction restraining the Sheriff and the State's Attorney of Madison County from interfering with the operation of said club; that said Judge so approached flatly refused said offer; but that later the third Judge of the circuit granted the injunction desired by the said Madison Kennel Club.

"5. The special grand jury feels that there may be other matters in connection with the operation of said club, which may need investigation, and it therefore asks the Court for permission to recess until the 29th day of October, 1931."

Penalties for Offenses.

Malfeasance in office, a fine of not to exceed $10,000. Conviction also subjects the offending official to the possibility of removal from office.

Conspiracy to violate the State law, not less than one year, nor more than two in the penitentiary.

Attempted bribery, fine not to exceed $5000.

Operating a gambling house, a fine of not less than $100 for the first offense, not less than a $500 fine and not less than a six months jail sentence for the second offense, and not less than a $500 fine and a penitentiary term of two to five years for the third and succeeding offenses.

In Wake of Injunction Fight.

Return of the indictments is a climax to a spectacular fight carried out by Judges Louis Bernreuter and Miller to close the track. The campaign drew most of its complications from the fact that their associate on the Madison Circuit, Judge Jesse Brown, of Alton, issued an injunction on Aug. 29, restraining Prosecutor Bohm and Sheriff Fitzgerald from interfering with operation of the track. This was more than two months after the alleged attempt to bribe Judge Miller to issue a similar order.

Judges Bernreuter and Miller countered with an order to close the track but found the State's Attorney and Sheriff would not act on it because of the prior order by Judge Brown. Courtney C. Ellison, Alton attorney who directed the special grand jury, was then appointed special prosecutor, and led several raids on the track which failed to close it.

Finally the two Judges appealed to Gov. Emmerson for aid. They were assured of his co-operation. State Highway policemen were sent to help close the track. At this juncture, on Sept. 11, Judge Brown dissolved his injunction under which the track had operated, and the kennel club closed forthwith. It has not operated since.

Two days before, however, Judge Bernreuter had instructed the special grand jury to make a sweeping investigation into the state of affairs which allowed the track, an illegal enterprise under Illinois law, to operate.

After the special grand jury investigation had got under way, the Post-Dispatch learned today, emissaries of the dog track made efforts to stop the investigation by offering to make any concession. They offered, it was learned, to agree to issuance of a permanent injunction against the racing plant, and even offered to burn down the race track grandstand and destroy the mechanical rabbit and its accessories if the inquiry stopped in consideration of such steps.

Among the witnesses before the special grand jury, besides Judges Bernreuter and Miller, were former Fire Chief O'Reilly of Edwardsville, appointed by the two Judges to serve their writ in the absence of the Sheriff; Edward Campbell of the Press-Record Publishing Co. and E. J. Verlie, Alton attorney who has represented the track in court actions.

In his charge to the grand jury on Sept. 9, Judge Bernreuter pointed out that the regular grand jury had ignored his instruction to go into gambling conditions in the county and added that "one of these gambling establishments (meaning the track) is openly and brazenly ignoring the process and writs of your court."

"Make a thorough investigation," the Judge continued to "determine whether or not a large number of persons are working in harmony and conspiring to aid and promote this open and notorious gambling institution. We want you to go into this matter thoroughly no matter where the chips fly. Investigate it thoroughly and with an open mind, but go straight through like a steel bullet, no matter who gets hit."

State's Attorney Bohm was appointed to office in 1927 to serve out the unexpired term of Jesse R. Brown who resigned to make a successful campaign for election as Circuit Judge. Inasmuch as Brown's term had little more than a year to run and under the law, appointment cannot be made for a period to exceed a year, a special election was held. Bohm was elected to serve out the remaining portion of the unexpired, term. Subsequently he was re-elected.

Bohm is a political associate of Judge Brown although in 1924 they were opponents for the Republican nomination as State's Attorney. It was Judge Brown who, in the latter part of August, issued an order restraining the Sheriff and State's Attorney of Madison County from interfering with operation of the Madison Kennel Club.

Subsequently his colleagues, Circuit Judge Miller and Bernreuter, appointed Ellison as a special prosecutor to close the dog track. The order of appointment asserted that State's Attorney Bohm had "failed in a large measure" over a two-year period to carry out the instructions of Judges Bernreuter and Miller relative to the dog track.

"Wherefore we, the undersigned Judges find the said A. C. Bohm is an interested party, politically or in some manner, in said dog racing and said system of pari-mutuel wagering," the order concluded.

Bohm did initiate action against a dog track on one occasion. That track was the one operated by the Kingshighway Kennel Club, just across the river on the road leading to the Chain of Rocks Bridge. The Kingshighway track was closed competitor of the Madison club. Last year both clubs were indicted by a Madison County grand jury, charged with gambling, and both announced they would continue operating just the same.

However, two weeks later the Madison track closed. The Kingshighway Kennel Club continued to hold races. Bohm obtained a temporary injunction against the Kingshighway track and it was closed. The case never was set for hearing and the temporary injunction still stands against the track near the Chain of Rocks Bridge. During the recent controversy over closing of the Madison dog track, Circuit Judge Bernreuter made public the statement that when he hurried home from a vacation in Colorado to force the track to close, Bohm came to his home and asked him to permit the track to remain open a week, saying, he would take that long to prepare papers relative to closing it. Judge Bernreuter said he replied that the track must close immediately or he would appoint a special prosecutor to see that it did.

Later Judge Bernreuter asserted that the track had ceased operation three times in the period of a year only after he had threatened to appoint a special prosecutor to close it each time.

In other litigation concerning the track it was asserted by lawyers that the income from the track during 1929, was $75,000 a week.

The indictments voted last year against the two dog tracks and the Fairmount Jockey Club named as the operating companies as defendants but mentioned no individuals connected with them. As a result in case of conviction, the maximum penalty would be fines of $2000 each charge.

Bohm's term in office expires next year. When he was elected in 1928, he did not commit himself on the subject of greyhound racing, but declared, as a personal proposition, that he was in favor of law enforcement.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Twelve of the 13 delegations represented at the fourth Pan-American Commercial Conference today approved a resolution calling for an international conference to study the possibility of rehabilitating silver.

Only the formality of ratification by the conference as a whole is necessary to put the conference on record in favor of the proposal.

Delegations voting in favor of the resolution were Mexico, Costa Rica, Ecuador, Panama, Cuba, Venezuela, Argentina, Peru, El Salvador, Chile, Paraguay and the United States.

Brazil abstained from voting. There were no negative votes.

The resolution was introduced by Daniel Cosio Villegas of the Mexican delegation.

ROMANCE OF TRADE IS THEME OF FLOATS

Holiday Spirit Everywhere With Small Boys Not Hesitating to Use Pea-Shooters.

Beneath the strings of bright incandescent bulbs that turned Ranken avenue's dingy night into day, there was hustle and bustle last night as the Veiled Prophet prepared to leave his den there for the fifty-second annual parade through the streets of St. Louis before tens of thousands of his subjects.

Workmen rushed hither and thither carrying mysterious messages to bearded and brilliantly uniformed officers of the Prophet's Board of Honor. Heralds in bright tights and suits and long wigs tooted importatively on their trumpets. Mounted policemen, sabers dangling at their sides, stood at the heads of sleek black horses which pawed impatiently.

A crowd on the sidewalks watched the proceedings quietly. As the 9 o'clock approached the movement in the street reached its height. There were shouts. "Alright, Walter?" "Let's go, Joe," and the procession began to form. The police car that was to open up the crowd for the procession started slowly for Laclede avenue, half a block away, the mounted policemen spotted after it, the heralds swung into line.

Romance of Industry.

From the door of the den issued a factotum in a teamster's hickory shirt and khaki pants. He carried in his hand a broomstick which he waved officiously. Behind him, eight others, these in long yellow robes, dragged the first float by the handling lines into Ranken avenue. Then came the Prophet himself, veiled and mysterious eye in the bright light, sitting under a canopy of red, purple and gold high up in the stern of an ancient galley. Then other floats, tawdry in the glare of the naked street lights.

Subject of the parade for this year was "The Romance of Trade and Industry." The first of the 21 brilliantly lighted floats bore the title, the second was the equipage of the Prophet and the others bore the following titles: "Commerce of the Colonies," "India and Arabia," "Whaling," "The West Indies," "Germany," "Southern States," "Alaska," "Japan," "Street Merchants," "Commerce of the Desert," "China," "Argentina, South America," "Holland," "Mexico," "Iceland," "Frontier Trade," "Italy," "Scotland" and "Hawaiian Islands."

The procession swung into Lindell avenue, the trolleys struck blue flames from the wires, the floats suddenly burst into brilliant glory as their myriad bulbs came to light. The crowd, six or eight deep at the curbs, murmured with delight at the beauty of the artistic creation.

Thrill for the Children.

Westward on Lindell avenue the cortege made its way between the walls of an increasing crowd. The trumpeters, with paunches abnormally ample beneath the billows of ruffled stocks, sounded their fanfare continuously, the horses of the mounted police curvetted and flung their heads until their sleek necks took on flecks of foam, the masked figures on the brightly lighted floats waved at the subjects of the Prophet.

West to Sarah street the brilliant retinue passed between crowds of spectators ranging five to eight to 20 rows deep who in some places overflowed lawns and crowded porches to catch a glimpse of the spectacle.

From the crowd came a continuous murmur, the high babble of voices of delighted children, the deeper notes of the elders. There were children everywhere. The gaudy light from the parade floats outlined their faces, starry-eyed at the old Prophet who must have felt a warm thrill of real gratification for the pleasure he was bringing to the youngest of his subjects.

North on Sarah street and then on Olive he passed by thousands of them, sitting astride fathers' shoulders, standing bright-eyed, on mothers' knees, holding tightly to the skirts of elder sisters, dumb and enthralled with delight at the brilliant entourage that enfolded itself before them.

Big Crowd at Grand.

At Grand boulevard the crowd began to thicken and for the first time the mounted policemen had to ride to the flanks of the parade and straighten the lines of the spectators, their horses stepping daintily. At the Lindell curve there was a huge gathering, and surged away from the front of the parade like the lake water before the prow of a boat.

Big Crowd at Grand.

At Grand boulevard the crowd began to thicken and for the first time the mounted policemen had to side to the flanks of the parade and straighten the lines of the spectators, their horses stepping daintily. At the Lindell cutoff there was a huge gathering, that parted away from the front of the parade like the lake water before the prow of a boat.

There were four to ten lines of spectators on either side as the procession made its way east on Olive to Jefferson avenue, and on Jefferson north to Washington the crowd began to thicken again. Eastward on Washington it went through an ever-increasing line, which opened before the mounted police, then surged in again behind them.

Here there were fewer small children but many more boys of school age than the Prophet had seen up to that time. Some of them showed rare skill with pea shooters, peppering the horses in the parade and not sparing even the old gentleman himself. The Prophet's mummers on the floats thanked the forethought of a committee which had provided them with steel masks, skillfully concealed beneath beards and other means of disguise.

And Back to the Den.

East of Twelfth boulevard on Washington, the parade passed through crowds that were tightly packed between the procession line and the curbs and scattered on the sidewalks. Windows in the buildings along this section of the route were filled with watchers. South on Broadway and west on Olive street the Prophet passed through a diminishing crowd, but one, nevertheless, that was four to ten deep, with a gathering of hundreds besides in the wider space in front of the Federal Building.

At Jefferson and Olive the procession turned south, then west on Laclede to the den. There, with only a few of his subjects present, the Prophet made his exit, to be seen only once again this year, at the ball at the Coliseum tonight.

One by one the floats of his procession were dragged from the tracks, to drop again into unlighted tawdriness. They bumped dismally along Ranken avenue while teamsters cursed viciously at tired horses. They were dragged into the den. The mummers climbed from the floats, pulled off masks, and stretched their legs. Bright costumes disappeared, and where a few minutes before had thronged a colorful and romantic crowd, now were business men in slightly rumpled sack suits. Glamour had fled, the Prophet was gone.

V. P. BALL TONIGHT IN THE COLISEUM

The fifty-second annual Veiled Prophet's ball, in the Coliseum tonight, will reach its climax at 10 o'clock with the appearance and coronation of the Prophet's Queen, to reign for the social season of 1931-32 and until next year's ball.

The name of the Queen and the names of the four special Maids of Honor who precede her in the processional are not made known until they are announced by the Prophet's herald, just before their appearance.

Blue is the color theme of the hall's decorations, which were installed yesterday. The orchestra will be in a special balcony at the north end of the hall, instead of being in a sunken garden of the main floor, as last year.

About 1200 guests are expected to attend the Queen's supper and dance at Hotel Jefferson, at which the Queen and her maids are to arrive at midnight. The gold room and mezzanine will be reserved for the guests.

Station KMOX, beginning at 9:15 p. m., will broadcast a description of the Coliseum events.

Special traffic arrangements have been made for the streets leading from all sections to the Coliseum. These streets are to be closed to general traffic after dark, and a warning has been issued to automobile owners against leaving their cars parked on any of these streets. Parking space will be provided for all cars of guests at the ball, and a special telephone system will be used for calling the cars after the ball. Those driving to the ball should hold their tickets in readiness to show to policemen.

U. S. TO SEND OBSERVERS INTO SINO-JAPANESE AREA

Action Taken Before Receipt of Message From China Requesting It.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The American Government has appointed representatives to visit the Sino-Japanese dispute area in Manchuria and report to Washington what the situation is.

This action was taken before receipt of a note from China requesting an investigation by United States Government representatives. The American reply which has been forwarded to the Nanking Government said the action had been taken.

The commission of observers, already in the Manchurian trouble area, consists of Laurence E. Salisbury of the Tokio embassy; George C. Hanson, Consul General at Harbin, Manchuria; and Myrl S. Myers, Consul General at Mukden. They were named on Sept. 28 after both the Japanese and Chinese Governments had approved the action.

JUMPS FROM SIXTH FLOOR ON DARE, LANDS SAFE IN TREE

Man Is Rescued With Rope When Firemen's 32-Foot Ladder Fails to Reach Him.

By the Associated Press.

RENO, Nev., Oct. 7.—Joe Slattery jumped out of a sixth-floor window of a Reno hotel on a dare last night, but landed in a tall shade tree. A hook and ladder company was called to extricate him.

It looked for a time as though Slattery would have to spend the night in the tree for a 32-foot ladder was not quite long enough to reach him. The firemen finally tossed a rope to Slattery from the window through which he had jumped and then lowered him, unharmed, to the sidewalk.

U. S. LAYS BARE INCOME TAX CASE AGAINST CAPONE

Made More Than Million in Six Years From 'Gambling and Other Enterprises,' Prosecutor Says.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—The Government began its income tax fraud case against Al Capone in deliberate manner today, charging that although the gang leader made a million dollars and more in six years from gambling "and other business enterprises," he deliberately tried to evade payment of taxes.

Chester Bragg, an insurance agent of Berwyn, a Chicago suburb, testified that he, as a member of the West Suburban Ministers and Citizens' Association, took part in a raid on an alleged gambling establishment in Cicero during May, 1925.

"I was assigned to guard the front door while the other members of the raiding party went to the second floor of the building," Bragg testified. "A man (he identified him as Capone) began pushing on the door to get in.

"I Own This Place."

"I asked him, 'What do you think this is, a party?' He said, 'I own this place.' So I let him in."

Bragg said that Capone followed the raiding party to the second floor. A few minutes later, Bragg said, he heard Capone ask the Rev. Mr. Hoover, a Berwyn minister, and leader of the raid, "Why are you always picking on me?"

"You pulled the last raid on me, that you're going to pull," the witness quoted Capone as telling the minister.

Bragg said the second floor of the building was equipped with what he thought to be roulette wheels, chuck-a-luck games and racing forms. Under cross-examination, however, he declined to say he was positive that the equipment constituted gambling devices.

"A Rotten Follow Up."

Capone was not arrested during the raid, Bragg said, "because, I believe, the raiding party had no warrant for his arrest."

When asked why Capone was not subsequently arrested, Bragg replied:

"I don't pretend to know the intricacies of the law in such cases. I think it was a rotten follow up job by the police after the raid."

The Government's first exhibit, an account book of a Cicero gambling house, allegedly owned by Capone, was introduced while Leslie H. Shumway, an employe of the gambling house, was on the stand. Most of the entries in the account book were made by himself and Frankie Pope, a Chicago gang character, the witness said. Shumway testified he had seen Capone in the "smoke shop" making bets on horse races. He added that the two managers had led him to believe Capone was their boss.

Dwight H. Green, Assistant District Attorney, laid the ground work for the Government case with an account of the two indictments of 23 counts against Capone and of the various amounts of alleged income and taxes from 1924 to 1929.

"The evidence will show," Green said, "that the defendant's manner of doing business, his handling of huge sums of money in cash and telegraphic money orders, his dissipation of assets, all were part of a scheme to defeat and evade the taxes. He had money in plenty, but he paid none of it to the Government."

The opening statement was delayed about 40 minutes by a conference between Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson and counsel for both sides. The defense said it had learned reasons for which one of the jurors selected yesterday should be disqualified, but after the conference, the jurors were all allowed to remain and there was no explanation of the objection.

"I believe the court will instruct you," said Green, "that it is not necessary to prove the exact amounts, that the Government need only prove that the defendant had some net income on which he paid no tax."

The jurors, all middle-aged or elderly men, leaned forward and listened intently.

"The evidence will show that this defendant never filed a return in this Federal district, never paid any tax for any of the years covered in these indictments," Green continued, "although he maintained an office, a principal headquarters and his principal residence in this city."

Profits for Six Years.

The alleged liquor and vice branches of the syndicate supposedly headed by the scar-faced Capone were not mentioned. Green said, however, the evidence would show that "certain gambling interests in Cicero, with which the defendant was connected" realized net profits of $320,000 in 1924, $117,000 in 1925, $170,000 in 1926 and "huge sums" in 1927, 1928 and 1929.

The prosecution will attempt to prove that Capone defrauded the Government of $215,000 through income tax evasion on earnings of $51,306,654 during the years 1924-1929.

The only defense objection during the statement came when Green said that after the Government began its investigation, Capone came to them and through his attorneys admitted that he had a liability to the Government. Judge Wilkerson overruled the objection saying the jury would understand that it was merely an opening statement and not evidence.

$40,000 Home in Florida.

Green said that late in 1927 or early in 1928, Capone entered a "palatial home in Florida," paying $20,000 for a six months' season. He added that the defendant later paid $40,000 for a large home in Florida and expended more than $100,000 for maintenance and improvements.

DIVORCEE, EVICTED FROM APARTMENT, ENDS HER LIFE

Former Wife of Raymond Pape Swallows Poison in Vestibule of Building at 4009 Lindell Bl.

Mrs. Hortense Hill Pape, 21 years old, divorced wife of Raymond F. Pape, died at City Hospital at 5 p. m. yesterday from the effects of poison, which she swallowed an hour earlier.

Police summoned to an apartment house at 4009 Lindell boulevard found Mrs. Pape lying in the vestibule unconscious. A bottle that had contained poison was by her side, and a note announced her intention of ending her life. Her purse contained four cents, and police learned that she was evicted yesterday from an apartment at 4228 McPherson avenue, where she had been living.

The note read: "No one cares, and I think this is the best way for all. Ask Fred W. Pape to get in touch with his son, Ray, who is my ex-husband, and he will know what to do with my body. I don't care what is done with it. Anything is O. K. Please see that my baby is taken care of. I think he will be. Good luck to all my real friends, I believe I still have a few."

On the back of an envelope addressed to Miss Hortense Hill was written: "Happy days were spent in this school. If I could only live them over again I believe I would listen to Miss Role, she was so sweet." The reference to the school is not clear.

Fred W. Pape, referred to in the note, is City Park Commissioner and Chairman of the City Republican Committee. He is in the East on vacation.

Raymond Pape, a State employe, was notified at Jefferson City. Last February he obtained a divorce on grounds of general indignities, and was given custody of his year-old son, Earl.

The body of Mrs. Pape was taken to the morgue, where her mother, Mrs. Alice Hill, 4311 Laclede avenue, identified it. Mrs. Hill told police that she had not seen her daughter since last Christmas.

Woman, 93, Surrenders Hoard of $400,000 Cash

Mrs. Ida Wood, New York, Carried Bills of Large Denomination, Many of Them 50 Years Old, in Her Pocket.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—"I don't want anybody to take care of me," said Mrs. Ida E. Wood, who once reigned over Fifth avenue salons and danced with King Edward VII when he was the Crown Prince. "I'm 93 years old—and that's old enough for me to take care of myself."

When officers, acting under a court order declaring Mrs. Wood incompetent, searched her quarters at the Herald Square Hotel they made a surprising discovery.

Confronted with the court order, Mrs. Wood produced a parcel from the folds of her old-fashioned frock. In it were bills of large denomination—many of them half a century old. Altogether the parcel contained $400,000 in cash. For years she had kept it, not trusting banks or investments.

There were bills long since out of circulation. In the room, too, were trunks filled with laces, bustles, satin ball gowns, watches studded with diamonds, taffeta petticoats, dance programs, shoes and jewelry.

Her relatives often had heard her refer to her money, but even they were surprised at the size of the fortune.

Although she was openly displeased that any court should think her unable to attend to her own business affairs, Mrs. Wood did not become angry as she did a few weeks ago when she produced a sugar bag containing $50,000 and turned it over to the administrator of her affairs.

Mrs. Wood, sprightly despite her years, is only five feet tall. She has lived alone for many years. Her husband, once publisher of the New York Daily News, was a prominent Democrat. The New York Daily News, which Mrs. Wood's husband published, had no connection with the present New York Daily News.

After Mr. Wood's death, his widow managed the paper herself by telephone and pneumatic tube, reading the proofs and directing its editorial policy. Eventually, however, she relinquished control of the publication and it was sold to Munsey.

2 MORE HELD FOR GRAND JURY FOR FLORISSANT BANK HOLDUP

Fourth and Fifth Men Waive Preliminary Hearing; Bond Set at $10,000 Each.

James Kilgore, 23 years old, a bricklayer of Overland, and James Clark, 31, a grocer of 2910 Woodson road, waived their preliminary hearing today on charges of attempted robbery of the Citizen's Bank at Florissant on Sept. 25, and were bound over to the grand jury by Justice of the Peace Henry Stecker at Clayton. Bond was set at $10,000 each.

Three other men are held for grand jury action on the same charge, with bond set at $50,000 each. They are John Hooss, 26; Ivan L. Boren, 27, 2610A Russell avenue, and Stanley Foerster, 25, 9210 Midland avenue. A warrant has been issued for a sixth man who escaped arrest.

The holdup was frustrated when bank employes fired on the robbers from a bullet-proof banking room, installed as a protection against robberies.

STATE HEALTH COMMISSIONER TO LOOK INTO MILK SITUATION

Gov. Caulfield So Informs Delegation of St. Louis Consumers and Farmers.

The milk situation in St. Louis will be investigated by Dr. James Stewart, State Health Commissioner, and E. G. Bennett, State Dairy Commissioner, Gov. Caulfield told representatives of St. Louis consumers and St. Louis County farmers who called on him yesterday at Jefferson City.

Attorney-General Shartel appointed Walter L. Metcalfe, St. Louis attorney, as a special assistant to investigate possible law violation and aid toward a settlement of the controversy soon after the Sanitary Milk Producers voted the milk strike Aug. 31 against Pevely Dairy Co. Mrs. Virgil Loeb and Mrs. W. W. Burke of the Consumers' Milk Commission and St. Louis County Farm Agent O. W. Meier told Gov. Caulfield that the situation had become grave and asked him to determine whether Health Commissioner Starkloff's "moratorium on milk houses" was a menace to the health of St. Louisans and to the welfare of dairymen in the St. Louis territory.

PROF. KANE INDICTED IN DROWNING OF WIFE

Tennessee U. Educator Accused of Holding Her Under Water at Beach.

By the Associated Press.

HAMPTON, Va., Oct. 7.—Elisha Kent Kane III, professor of romance languages at the University of Tennessee, was indicted yesterday for murder by a grand jury investigating the drowning of his wife.

The true bill charged that Kane, "with malice aforethought," held his wife, Jenny Graham Kane, under the water at Grand View Beach until she was dead. Kane is now at liberty under $15,000 bond.

Eleven witnesses were heard by the grand jury. W. H. Graham, brother of Mrs. Kane, was heard, but Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Graham, parents of the dead woman, were not asked to testify after being summoned.

Mrs. Kane was drowned at a lonely spot on Chesapeake Bay Sept. 11, and Prof. Kane was arrested after the funeral two days later.

Coroner George K. Vanderslice returned a verdict of premeditated murder after an inquest. He made public letters to Kane from Mrs. Betty H. Dahl of Mount Holly, N. J., which he said were an important factor in his verdict.

Mrs. Dahl has not appeared in the case. At the preliminary hearing for Kane, when he was bound over to the grand jury, the defense offered no witnesses.

W. C. Graham later said that the letters were known to the Graham family and to Mrs. Kane. He said they had caused Mrs. Kane "great unhappiness."

Mrs. Graham broke down on the stand at the preliminary hearing and was withdrawn after a few questions. She said that her daughter seemed to dread the swimming party from which she never returned. Mr. Graham also testified to this effect.

Kane contends that he made efforts to save his wife and to resuscitate her after bringing her ashore.

Kane probably will go to trial late this month.

The trial of Kane was set today for Dec. 8 by Circuit Judge Vernon C. Spratley.

NEW YORK SHERIFF BANKED $307,494 ABOVE HIS SALARY

Says He Made the Money When Union Business Agent Before He Became Public Official.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Sheriff Thomas M. Farley, Tammany leader, again today was called before the Legislative City Investigation Committee to explain among other things how he managed to bank $307,494 more than his salary since Jan. 1, 1925.

At the close of yesterday's hearing Sheriff Farley strenuously denied he had made any money from alleged gambling activities in his political clubhouse.

It was then that Samuel Seabury, chief counsel for the committee, produced records to show that Farley had deposited a total of $360,660 in three bank accounts since Jan. 1, 1925. Only $53,166 of that amount came from official salaries, the chief counsel pointed out.

Seabury stated publicly at the committee's hearing today that in his opinion Farley's bank deposits proved conclusively that the Sheriff was "grafting."

Farley has been Sheriff since 1930 at $15,000 a year. In the preceding years, as Deputy County Clerk, he received first $6500 and then $8500 a year.

Farley said the money deposited during that period had been made when he was a union business agent, before he became a Tammany office holder. He had kept the money in a tin box in his home, he explained, and in a safe deposit vault, later putting it in the bank accounts.

Denies Gambling Charges.

He said his only income outside of his salary since he was elected Alderman in 1925 was about $25,000 he received in real estate brokerage commissions.

The courtroom was filled with Tammany followers, and there was lengthy applause whenever the Sheriff scored a point. One occasion was when he said:

"I never maintained a gambling joint. I was never inside a gambling joint. In no way have I or my family been connected with a gambling raid. Furthermore, I wouldn't be associated with anyone connected with a gambling joint."

"What were your members doing in the club at 2 a. m. on May 29, 1926, when police conducted a gambling raid on the place?" the Sheriff was asked by Seabury.

Farley, a tall, heavyset man who was born in the East Side house where he now lives and has been a Tammany officeholder 18 years, waved a finger at his interrogator and replied:

"I'll tell you what they were doing. They were packing 15,000 baseball bats."

"What on earth for?" Seabury asked with a smile.

"For a May day party for the children. And they were also packing 5000 skip ropes.

"Any other playthings of such an innocent character?"

"Yes, 15,000 rubber balls."

"And were they doing anything else?"

"Yes, fixing some May poles and some canopies."

His Duty to Go Bail.

Seabury produced a list of the 28 men arrested in the raid. He pointed out that the Sheriff had gone bail for all of them and that the list included at least three professional gamblers and one ex-convict. The Sheriff said it was his duty to go bail for any one arrested in his clubhouse.

"There is evidence here," Seabury said, "that two murders took place in the Perry Political Club. If that happened in your club would you feel it your duty to bail the murderers?"

Objections from Democratic members of the committee prevented the witness from making a direct answer, although he said that regardless of the offense or the person committing it, it was his duty as Democratic leader to go bail for his constituents.

The Sheriff, who had signed a waiver of immunity after a long argument which followed his defiance of the committee by refusing to testify in private, was reminded of what previous witnesses had said.

Says Revolver Was Planted.

He was told that various police officials had testified about iron bars on the windows, screens, heavy "ice box doors," and the running of games in the club by such professional gamblers as "Baldy" Froelich, who was among those arrested in the Farley Club raid.

Concerning the heavy doors, Farley said: "The only time I ever saw an ice box was in a butcher shop where I worked once." He denied there were bars on more than one window and said the screens were "just chicken wire."

Farley also denied he had threatened Assemblyman Frederick L. Hackenburg, a member of the club, with the loss of his political job if he continued to protest about gambling in the place.

Questioned about a revolver found by the raiders, the Sheriff said it had been "planted" by the head of the raiding party, a police captain.

Agents and accountants for the Department of Internal Revenue were today investigating the income tax returns of Sheriff Farley.

DANIEL C. FRENCH, NOTED AMERICAN SCULPTOR, 81, DIES

Succumbs at Stockbridge, Mass., After Long Illness '—'Minute Man' and 'John Harvard' His Work

By the Associated Press.

STOCKBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 7.—Daniel Chester French, dean of American sculptors, died at his summer home today. He had been in ailing health for several months. He was 81 years old.

The unveiling of his first public work was the real beginning of a career as sculptor which eventually brought international fame and honors to French. The work, a bronze statue called "The Minute Man," was unveiled at Concord, Mass., April 19, 1875, the day before his twenty-fifth birthday anniversary.

Governmental recognition of the young sculptor's ability was evidenced by commissions given to French early in his career for work on buildings in New York, Philadelphia, St. Louis and Boston as well as for statues in several of the Government buildings in Washington. These included marble groups for the Federal Building at St. Louis, the United States Court House at Philadelphia and the postoffice at Boston; statues of Gen. Lewis Gass in the Capitol, Gallaudet at Washington and of Herodotus and "History" in the Congressional Library at Washington.

Statue of Lincoln.

French also executed three colossal figures for the Columbian Exposition at Chicago; four groups—Europe, Asia, Africa and America—in front of the New York Customs House, and the statue of Abraham Lincoln in the Lincoln Memorial at Washington.

A notable work of the sculptor is his bronze statue of John Harvard at Cambridge, Mass. French received a medal at the Paris salon of 1891 for his large relief, "The Angel of Death Staying the Hand of the Sculptor." This was designed and executed as a memorial to Martin Milmore, the young sculptor who produced the soldiers' monument on Boston Commons.

In addition to the medal he received at Paris, French was further honored by France by being made a chevalier of the Legion of Honor in 1910 and by election in 1920 as one of 19 foreign associate members by the Fine Arts Class of the French Academy. He was made an academician of merit of the Royal Academy of St. Luke at Rome and was the only American so honored until September, 1906, when Frederick E. Triebel, the New York sculptor, was similarly favored.

From Prominent Family.

French was born at Exeter, N. H., April 20, 1850. His family, which is connected with those of Daniel Webster and John G. Whittier, figured prominently in public service. One of his grandfathers was Chief Justice and the other Attorney-General of New Hampshire, while his father was a lawyer and judge and also served as Assistant Secretary of the United States Treasury.

During his school years at Exeter, Cambridge, Amherst and Boston, French showed no special taste for art, but he was always greatly interested in ornithology. This led to his first efforts a modeling when he was about 18 and after his family had removed to Concord, Mass., his first subjects were birds and animals and then groups of them.

In St. Louis he carved the stone group at the edge of the Federal Building dome on the Olive street side, which shows an eagle between two figures, Miss America at War, and Miss America at Peace. The large stone statue of sculpture at the west end of the City Art Museum in St. Louis, was his work, and in Sculpture Hall at the museum there are plaster casts of two of his major efforts. One is the Alma Mater designed for Columbia University, the other the Martin Milmore Memorial group for the Boston Commons.

GENERAL ELECTRIC HAS PLAN TO GUARANTEE 6-MONTH WORK

No Further Layoffs Without Pay; Shop Employes to Vote on Proposal.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Oct. 7.—A plan which virtually will guarantee six months' employment beginnig Nov. 1 has been offered to shop employes of General Electric Co., Gerard Swope, President, announces.

The proposal is to be voted on by employes of the company who are members of the General Electric unemployment pension plan, which embraces the great majority of shop employes of the company.

As described by Swope, the plan is "to so divide the work that there will be no further layoffs for lack of work between Nov. 1, 1931, and April 30, 1932, without compensation; and that all those on the payroll Nov. 1, 1931, will receive during this period not less than the equivalent of one-half of their average weekly earnings for full time, but in no case more than an average of $15 a week. If actual earnings are above that average, however, the employe is to receive his actual earnings:"

A three-fold method has been proposed to insure this result. Employes are to be assigned work outside their regular work, if necessary, at the prevailing rates of pay for such work.

The unemployment emergency fund, which has been operating since Dec. 1, 1930, is to be augmented by increasing the contributions of 1 per cent of earnings now being made by all employes who are working more than half time to 2 per cent, the company increasing its own contributions to match those of the men. This increased fund may then be drawn upon by employes "under the present provisions."

Finally, if these two methods are inadequate, the board of directors of the company will be asked to authorize additional payments by the company to the unemployment emergency fund, without increasing the employes' contributions to the fund.

A Harmless Prescription, but a Fine Laxative!

DON'T you want this way of making the bowels behave? A doctor's way to make the bowels move so well that you feel better all over! Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin doesn't cause disagreeable effects but cleanses the system thoroughly. It does it without any shock, for it's only fresh laxative herbs a famous doctor found so good for the bowels combined with pure pepsin and other harmless ingredients.

A doctor should know what is best for the bowels. Let Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin show you how soon you can train the bowels to act naturally, every day, the way they should. It's wonderful the way this prescription works, but it's perfectly harmless; so you can use it whenever a coated tongue or sick headache gives warning that you are bilious. Fine for children, too (it tastes so nice), and they ought to have a spoonful the minute they seem fretful, feverish, or sluggish, or become stuffed up with a cold.

You can get the original prescription Dr. Caldwell wrote so many years ago; your druggist keeps it all ready in big bottles. Just ask for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and use it any time anyone in the family is constipated.

BANKER KILLED BY AUTO GAS

Found Dead in Car in Garage of Cleveland Country Club.

By the Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 7.—Carbon monoxide poisoning caused the death yesterday of Philip T. White, vice president in charge of the bond department of the Cleveland Trust Co. White's body was found in the front seat of his automobile in a garage at the Cleveland Country Club. The motor had stopped running, but the garage was filled with fumes. Doors and windows of the garage were closed.

Harris Creech, president of the trust company, said White had been in failing health for several months and recently had been depressed. White was a member of the board of governors of the Investment Bankers' Association of America and was a director of several corporations. He leaves a widow.

TWO KILLED IN RIOT FOLLOWING EVICTION

Cleveland, O., Crowd of 300 Attacks Police in Negro Section.

By the Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 7.—A second man died today as the result of rioting last night which police said was started by a communistic demonstration against the eviction of a Negro family.

John Grayford, 54 years old, a Negro, died a few hours after another Negro, tentatively identified as Edward D. Jackson, was shot to death, and two other rioters and two policemen were injured.

The outbreak—the second led by Communists here in the last two nights—began when three policemen went to see why a mob of 300 had collected in front of the house where the family had been evicted earlier in the day.

As a woman shouted, "All right, let's go," the crowd surged around the policemen, they said, and attacked them.

In the following struggle, two Negroes were fatally shot, two others were wounded, Lieut. Owen E. McAdams was injured and Patrolman Walter Wingate was beaten on the head with clubs.

Lieut. McAdams, leader of the police squad, was pulled down from behind, he said, was shot by his own pistol as he grappled with his assailants. Patrolman Arthur Bockhousen, the third member of the squad, and McAdams opened fire.

A hundred police were rushed into the Negro section, and dispersed the crowd.

CHANGES IN BANKRUPTCY LAW TO BE PROPOSED TO CONGRESS

Thacher Report Favors Probation Period for Benefit of Creditors.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Radical changes in the bankruptcy act will be proposed to Congress by the Justice Department this winter.

A study conducted at the request of President Hoover has convinced the department that the present law has "failed to achieve its central purposes."

A report submitted to Chief Justice Hughes by Solicitor-General Thacher, made public today, held "the law should discourage recklessness, extravagance, gambling and other unconscionable dissipation of assets, by giving the courts in such cases discretion to suspend discharges for probationary periods, during which time acquired property and income, less allowances for living necessities, would be distributed to creditors."

New proceeding to relieve debtors without going through bankruptcy by assigning their property to creditors under protection of law, are to be recommended. Thacher proposed that wage earners be given law-supervised opportunity to amortize debts out of earnings without garnishment or attachment. Similar aid to reorganize corporations was suggested.

COOK COUNTY TO LEVY ON EXCHANGE MEMBERSHIPS

Assessor Says Board of Trade Group Should Pay $250,000 in Taxes.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Members of the Chicago Board of Trade will be ordered to pay personal property taxes on their memberships, County Assessor Conroy said today.

The 1550 brokers own memberships valued at $7000 each, or a total of $10,850,000, Conroy said. They should pay $250,000 in taxes on an assessable value of $4,014,500, he added.

Chicago Stock Exchange members will be assessed arbitrarily, he said. Pawnbrokers will be assessed for taxes on personal property they hold.

Owners of 75,000 tank cars valued at $60,000,000 were told yesterday to show cause why they should not be assessed under the personal property law. Attorneys for two firms said the cars should be exempt because they were used in interstate commerce.

TWO SENTENCED TO PRISON FOR ROBBING PAIR IN AUTO

Charles Burney, 33 years old, who said he lived at the Erie House, Fourth street and Clark avenue, pleaded guilty of robbery in the first degree at Clayton yesterday, and was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary by Circuit Judge Mueller.

Burney and a companion, William Ramsey, who got a 10-year sentence earlier yesterday, were arrested at Telegraph road and Pottle avenue on the night of Sept. 26 as they were holding up a pair in a parked automobile. A Deputy Constable, driving by, asked if anything was wrong and was assured by one of the robbers that there was not, but, seeing a gesture from the driver, he returned and arrested the men.

IN spite of all that is written on the care and feeding of infants, our guess from behind the grocery counter is that the care and feeding of husbands is equally important.

Of course, you don't have to prepare formulas for husbands. But you do have to buy the right food. And you do have to buy good food.

Don't say the best food is expensive . . . It isn't.

A&P prices on the best foods obtainable are always low. For A&P is quick to sell for less when it buys for less. We are so close to all the places where food is grown that whenever a prune or a potato is selling at a bargain in the great food markets, our stores offer that bargain almost immediately.

WELFARE WORK AMONG VETERANS OUTLINED

Association Raising $50,000 for Relief to Get Reports on Campaign Tonight.

Those engaged in the campaign to raise $50,000 for the budget of the Veterans' Welfare Association will make their second report of progress at the headquarters, 801 Buder Building, tonight.

The campaign has the indorsement of practically all the major military organizations, and the association has attempted to do in relief of war veterans what the Community Fund has done in general relief, and social welfare work. The association says it has succeeded in eliminating scheming racketeers, professional promoters, high-powered solicitors for war histories, biographies, tickets for entertainments, blanket lotteries, benefits for veterans, etc.

It is claimed by the association that there is no duplication by other agencies of the work done by the organization. It is on this basis that the appeal is being made to the public for assistance.

Last year the association made a distribution of 25,872 individual issues of cigars, cigarettes, smoking and chewing tobacco to veterans who were in the Veterans' Hospital at Jefferson Barracks, the City Sanitarium and United States Marine Hospital.

Often Pay Railroad Fare.

The association has an office in the Buder Building, but many times its officers have been called at their homes late at night by veterans in need of immediate attention, and they have been hospitalized on numerous occasions. In one case a veteran's personal physician stated that gangrene had set in the foot, making an immediate amputation necessary. Within an hour and a half, an ambulance had this man in the Veterans' Hospital, where he could receive immediate attention. On many occasions veterans have been recommended for admittance to national soldiers' homes, either at Danville, Ill., or Leavenworth, Kan., and, due to the fact that the Veterans' Bureau at this time cannot issue immediate transportation from this end, the Veterans' Welfare Association has paid the fare of men to the Soldiers' Home, feeling it is cheaper to do so than to hold them in St. Louis for a period of two or three weeks awaiting transportation from the Soldiers' Home.

Another case is that of a veteran who is totally blind and has been so for several years. He has been, and is trying to support his family and himself by weaving rugs. He became ill, was confined to his home for several weeks and could not work at his trade. Sickness exhausted his resources, but the association purchased new supplies and this war veteran is on his feet again and supporting his family. He did not ask for charity, but all he wanted was sufficient material to work with.

15,655 Cases Cared For.

During the past year the Veterans' Welfare Association has taken care of a great number of cases, including the following: Claims presented at the Veterans' Bureau for adjustment, 2280 cases; emergency relief, 2137; cases referred to proper social agencies, 722; hospitalization secured, 353; applications for employment, 1507; employment placed, 203; legal aid, 290; counsel and advice, 743; insurance, 596; pension secured (Spanish-American and Civil War, including widow's pensions), 123; documents notarized free, including veterans' notes, 6110; miscellaneous services, 591; making a total of 15,655 cases.

All cases are cleared through the social service exchange of the Community Council with which the Veterans' Welfare Association co-operates.

It has been the practice of the association to supply the necessities first, and determine future needs by investigation, feeling that where a veteran, his wife and children are hungry, a small order of groceries will relieve the momentary distress until such a time as the true conditions can be determined and a more complete plan worked out for the family.

Gen. E. J. Spencer, a veteran of the Indian, Spanish-American and World wars is chairman of the campaign. Associated with him are Paul R. French, organization chairman; Mrs. Edith Sterbens, chairman of the women's division, and W. Palmer Clarkson, treasurer.

HOW TO GET TICKETS FOR 7TH GAME, IF ANY

Sale to Start Immediately After Friday's Contest If Title Isn't Decided.

If the world series between the Cardinals and Athletics is tied at the close of the sixth game, scheduled to be played at Sportsman's Park Friday, reserved seat tickets for the seventh game Saturday will be placed on sale immediately at the park.

The sale, if held, will be made at the Dodier street ticket offices of the park as soon as the sixth game is ended. The only tickets to be withheld from the sale will be those reserved for Commissioner Landis and the two major league presidents, and those for box seats.

For the remainder it will be a rule of first come, first served. Because of the inevitable confusion, no seats will be held for purchasers of $10 books during the regular National League season who had preferential allotment of tickets in the earlier sale of world series seats.

Boxholders received, with their first allotment of seats, tickets entitling them to preference in the purchase of the same seats for the seventh game, should it be necessary. These will be sold at the Arcade building box office between 6 and 9 p. m. Friday. Those not called for in that period will be placed on sale to the public Saturday morning at the Arcade Building.

Bleacher and pavilion seats will go on sale between 7 and 8 a. m. Saturday for the seventh game and 3500 standing room places will be on sale at the Arcade building after 8 a. m.

Although certified or cashiers' check or money order was required for payment for first blocks of tickets, cash will be accepted for tickets for the seventh game, since banks will be closed at the conclusion of the sixth game and many purchasers will be unable to provide themselves with the proper checks. Prices are as follows: Box seat, $6.60; reserved seats, $5.50; pavilion seats and grand-stand standing room, $3; bleachers, $1.

OPERA SINGERS TO WED

Hilda Hopkins Burke Will Marry Desire Defree.

By the Associated Press.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 7.—Hilda Hopkins Burke, Baltimore choir singer who rose to a dramatic soprano's role with the Chicago Civic Opera Co., will be married tomorrow in New York to Desire Defree, baritone of the Chicago company. Parents of Mrs. Burke, Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Hopkins, confirmed the news. Defree is a Frenchman, and is expected to land in New York just before the wedding.

Mrs. Burke has just been divorced in Illinois from her first husband, after a two-year legal fight. She first filed suit in April, 1929, but Burke contested and the action was dismissed. The second suit was uncontested. Mr. and Mrs. Burke were married in 1921 when she was 17 years old. Mrs. Burke made her debut with the De Foe Opera Company in "Cavalleria Rusticana" when she was 19. She appeared in 1928 with the Philadelphia Opera Company and later in the same year sang her first role with the Chicago company, singing the title role of "Aida."

MURDER WARRANTS AGAINST 4 IN BUS HOLDUP KILLING

Temporary warrants charging first-degree murder were issued by Assistant Circuit Attorney Lennon today against four men in connection with the killing of Patrolman Adolph Kreidler in a holdup on the upper deck of a Grand boulevard motorbus Sept. 28.

Those charged are Hubert Harvey, who has confessed he shot the policeman; Marion Stephens, Thomas E. Colby and William Davis, who have admitted "they were accompanying Harvey on a series of robberies when the shooting occurred.

Luther Hale, who had started out with the other four, but lost his nerve and left them half an hour before Patrolman Kreidler was killed, has been charged with robbery as a result of admissions concerning previous activities with the four.

Lennon set the case for hearing before the grand jury, Oct. 22.

CHILEAN VOTERS DEMAND PAY

Peasants Present Vouchers to Unsuccessful Presidential Candidate.

By the Associated Press.

SANTIAGO, Chile, Oct. 7.—Five hundred peasants massed yesterday in front of the home of Arturo Alessandri, unsuccessful candidate in Sunday's presidential elections, waving vouchers which called for 10 pesos each to those who voted for Alessandri.

The latter, speaking to them from a balcony, said he never had seen any such vouchers, that he never had bought votes and that he had not enough money to redeem them anyway. Distribution of the vouchers was attributed to overzealous workers in the Alessandri campaign.

EX-CONVICT GETS 14-YEAR TERM IN EAST SIDE KILLING

William Reardon Found Guilty at His Second Trial in Fatal Shooting of Sterling Huxtable.

William Reardon, 31-year-old former convict who killed the husband of the woman with whom he had been living, last November, was found guilty of murder by a jury in Circuit Judge Bernreuter's court at Belleville today and was sentenced to 14 years in prison.

Reardon pleaded self-defense, saying he shot only after the husband, Sterling G. Huxtable, had fired one shot at him. It was his second trial. At the first proceeding, last May, the jury was out 111 hours before it was discharged, hopelessly deadlocked. Mrs. Mildred Huxtable, jointly accused of murder, was freed by a directed verdict at the first trial.

The second jury deliberated eight hours, receiving the case shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The jurors took an hour for dinner, deliberated last night until 11 o'clock, and after an hour of consideration this morning, announced the verdict.

Reardon received the verdict without comment. His attorney was not in court and pending his arrival, no announcement was made concerning an appeal.

Huxtable, a construction foreman, was shot to death Nov. 17, when he and his wife who at that time had left Reardon, called to get certain jewelry which she had left with him. In contradiction of Reardon's self-defense plea, Assistant State's Attorney Curt Lindauer pointed out that Huxtable was shot in the back. Lindauer asked for the death penalty.

CHRISTIANITY IN REVOLUTION SAYS CHURCH CONVENTION HEAD

Dr. L. D. Anderson Tells Disciples Meeting That Gains Are Limited, Losses Large.

By the Associated Press.

WICHITA, Kan., Oct. 7.—The Rev. L. D. Anderson of Fort Worth, Tex., urged ministers and laymen to use all agencies at their command for the advancement of the church, in an address opening the International Convention of the Disciples of Christ here last night.

Declaring that Christianity is in the midst of a revolution, Dr. Anderson, the convention president, urged modernization of its program, including utilization of the radio.

"We are passing through troublous times," he said, "society is in process of readjustment; economic questions are to the fore, and Christianity is in the midst of a revolution that may prove the most important in history."

Anderson said that in this century "gains have been so limited and losses so large as to awaken apprehensions."

The estate of Lewis Cass Nelson, banker, who died July 15, is valued at $546,130 in an inventory filed in Probate Court yesterday. Of this $374,100 is the face value of personal property, the largest item consisting of bonds listed at $367,500. The bonds are principally railroad and street car company issues, among them being 100,000 of United Railways of St. Louis. Realty holdings were appraised at $172,030.

In his will, Mr. Nelson left the bulk of his estate in trust of his son, J. M. Nelson, and the Mercantile-Commerce Bank and Trust Co. for the benefit of the son. Having previously, the will shows, created a special trust fund for his widow, at her request, he did not make additional provision for her except that she is left certain articles of household and other domestic use.

Help your child to have a clean bill of health this Winter. Here is the way to help prevent colds from taking hold. At the first sign of sneezing or coughing—quick—insert a little Mentholatum in his nostrils. If you act in time, the camphor, menthol, and other ingredients in Mentholatum will check the cold at the very start. Also briskly rub Mentholatum on the nose, throat, chest and back. This will keep blood circulation normal and help prevent internal congestion and inflammation. In jars and tubes. 30c. Three times as much in large jars, 60c.

What's the good of gargling if bad breath still stays bad?

We've made a breath taking discovery for taking away bad breath (halitosis*)

Don't waste dollars on antiseptics that must be used full strength. This new discovery, even when diluted with two parts of water, kills germs in 10 seconds

THREE people in four add water to their mouth wash. They don't know that most antiseptics lose germ-killing power unless used full strength. That's why we say: Stop fooling yourself with weak antiseptics.

If you want to check bad breath due to unhygienic mouth conditions, you must destroy the germs that cause it—especially those present in fermenting food particles, ordinary mouth irritations, coated tongue. Do not depend on covering up breath odors with the odor of a mouth wash.

A radical new antiseptic discovery

Modern research laboratories have thrown away the old ideas on killing germs.

Now there's a revolutionary antiseptic on the market—Pepsodent Antiseptic. Its formula is a radical advance. It climaxes the best antiseptic study of 50 years. A germ-killing agent is employed unlike those now in use. It makes Pepsodent Antiseptic from 3 to 11 times more powerful in killing germs than other leading mouth antiseptics, depending on which one you use.

Kills germs in 10 seconds

That is the startling news in this new discovery. Think! You can mix Pepsodent Antiseptic with one or even two parts of water, to suit your taste, and it still kills germs in less than 10 seconds. That's where most other leading mouth antiseptics fail. Yet in spite of all that power, Pepsodent Antiseptic is utterly safe when used full strength. What a weapon this new antiseptic is in the fight against bad breath.

COLDS, SORE THROATS

Pepsodent Antiseptic does double duty when fighting bad breath. For at the same time it combats colds and throat irritations. Remember P. A. is 3 to 11 times more powerful in killing germs than other leading mouth antiseptics . . . and it kills germs when diluted.

New security against bad breath (Halitosis*)

Bad breath checked 1 to 2 hours longer! That's Pepsodent Antiseptic's record in fighting this widespread social offense due to unhygienic mouth conditions. Immediately after use—95% of germs on mouth surfaces are destroyed. Two hours later the number of germs remains reduced by 75%. That is far longer acting than other leading mouth antiseptics. And please remember when you use Pepsodent Antiseptic for bad breath you are doing double duty by also fighting colds.

$3 worth for $1

To kill germs—most mouth antiseptics must be used full strength. So to mix them with water is a waste of time.

Pepsodent Antiseptic can be mixed with twice its own volume of water. That means every $1 bottle does what 3 bottles of other mouth antiseptics do. Goes 3 times as far—you get $3 worth for $1 . . . a saving of $2.

Checking bad breath and combating colds are only two uses for this remarkable antiseptic. There are scores of other uses. Some are listed on this page. Learn to rely on Pepsodent Antiseptic whenever a safe, effective germ-killing agent is required. Keep it in the home. Take it with you traveling.

Again we say: Quit being good to germs. They've laughed at you long enough. Play safe. Buy an antiseptic that really kills germs when diluted. Remember: You can fool yourself but you can't fool bad breath.

Martin Hits Home Run and Ties Two Series Batting Records

Athletics Must Do The Worrying Now, Says 'Gabby' Street

By Charles E. "Gabby" Street
Manager of the Cardinals.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—Bill Hallahan's nervy pitching plus "Pepper" Martin's hitting put us back in the lead in the world series as result of today's victory over the Athletics and we are going back to St. Louis confident that we will bring the world championship back to the National League.

While Hallahan did not gain a shutout or permit as few hits as he did in the first game he worked in St. Louis, he was nevertheless a great pitcher. The box score shows that the Athletics made nine hits, but some of these were rather fortunate smashes. There were two which bounded off Hallahan and another which Bottomley could not field. Then Andy High stopped one, but was in no position to make a throw, so it had to go for a hit.

STREET.

All this kept Hallahan in hot water in the last three innings, but he always had enough to get out of danger. For instance, in the eighth, he stopped Simmons, who previously had made three hits to retire the side with two runners on base, while in the ninth he fanned Pinch Hitter Boley to end the contest, with runners on first and third.

Hallahan has shown that he is a great pitcher. Any man who can hold a club like the Athletics to one run in two world series games must be just that.

Connie Mack is still trying for a way to stop Martin. Pepper tied two world series records today—that for total hits in a series at 12 and for runs batted in in a single game with a total of four. He certainly has taken the spotlight away from the other players, although each and every one is trying his level best at all times. This is a one-man club, with each man working for the same purpose—victory.

In winning the fifth game, we batted three of Mack's lesser pitchers in Hoyt, Walberg and Rommel.

I am not saying that we are going to win the world championship. The Athletics are still tough to beat. But we have shown that we have pitching and that we can hit Mack's stars. We have beaten both Grove and Earnshaw, Mack's two big guns, and I think we will be able to do it again.

I have not decided who will pitch the sixth game of the series. There's too much depending on the battle to name a twirler two days before a game is played. I will have to look over my pitchers and then name the one who shows the best.

The Athletics must do the worrying now. We are one ahead, need only one more victory to win. The Athletics must win two straight. And as we have always been a better club at home than on the road, I think we will be able to turn the trick.

This has been a great series. Plenty of pitching and some timely hitting. It's been fought between two great clubs.

'Pepper' Has Chance To Equal Series Stolen Base Record

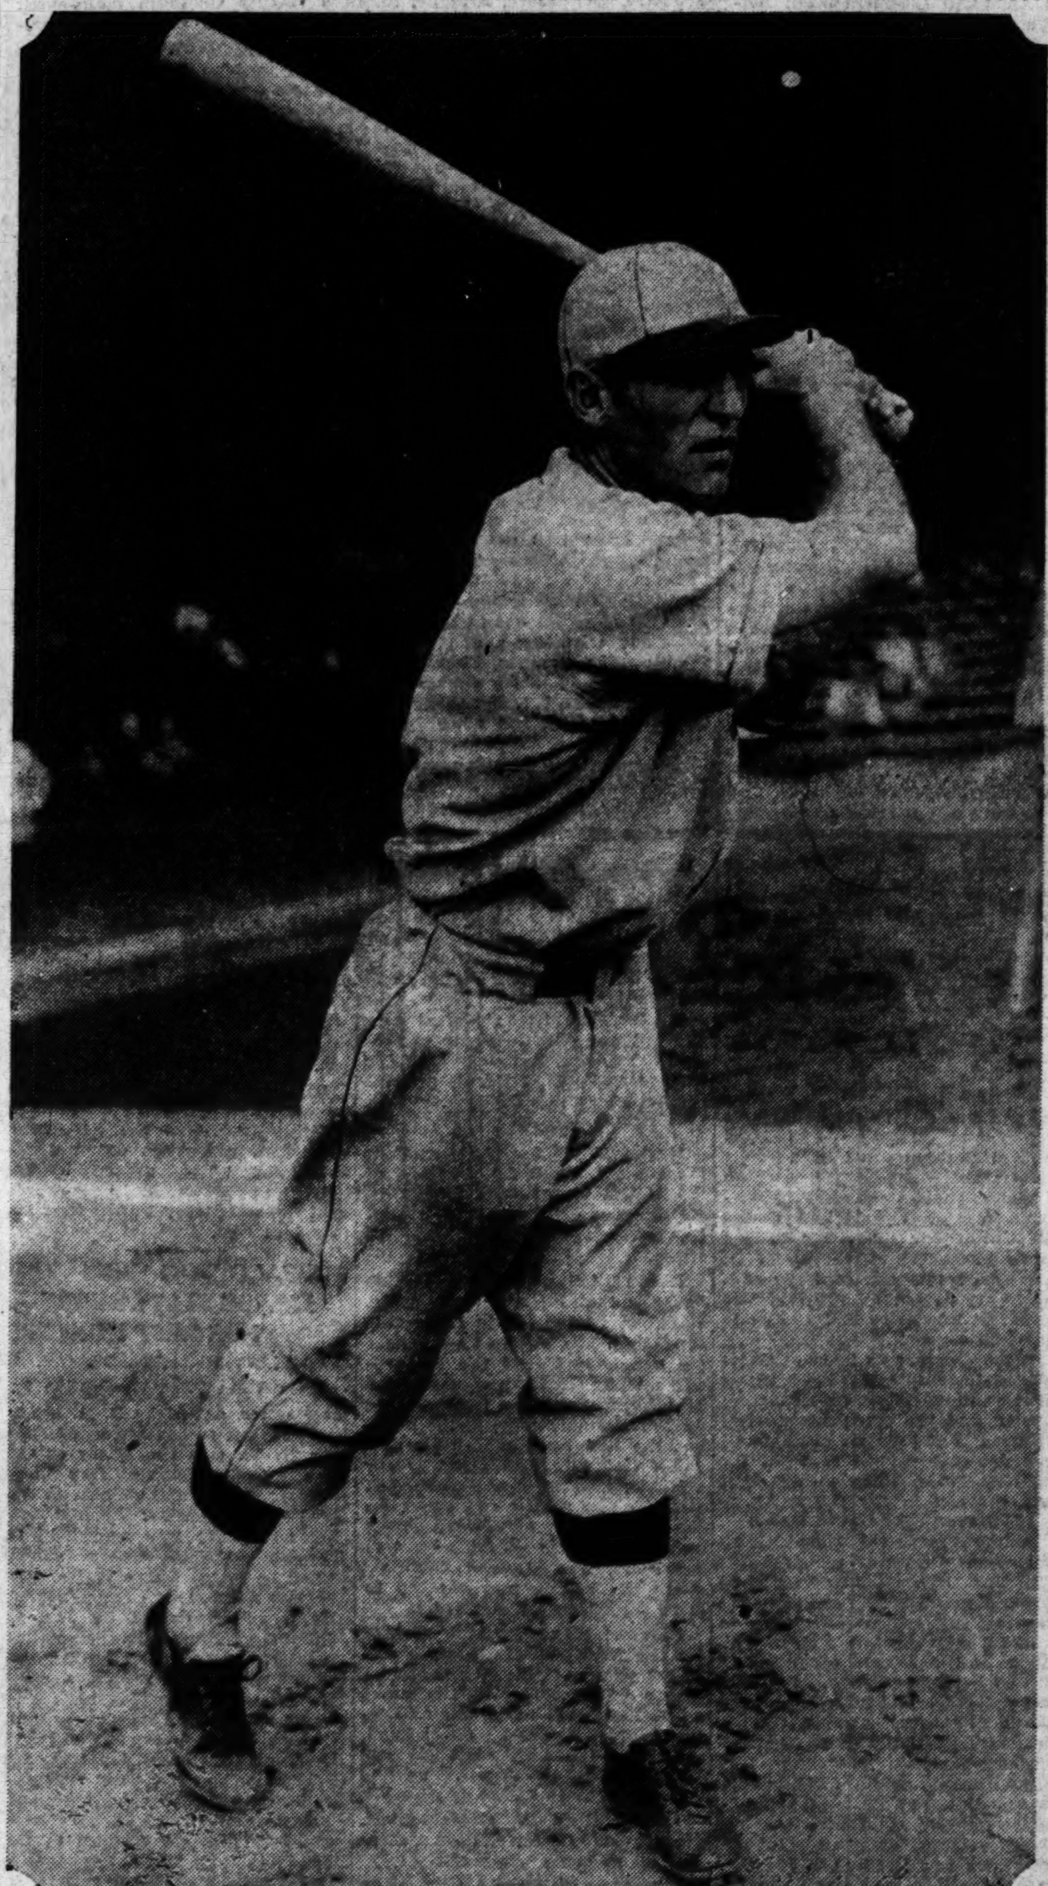

By Herman Wecke.
Of the Post-Dispatch Sport Staff.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—John Leonard "Pepper" Martin equaled two world series records in the fifth game of the series between the Cardinals and Athletics here this afternoon. When he singled off Rube Walberg in the eighth inning, it marked his twelfth safety of the series, to tie the present record.

Only three players have been able to accomplish this feat in the title competition. They are Buck Herzog, Joe Jackson and Sam Rice and they had seven or

MICHIGAN STATE PLAYS USED BY ARMY SCRUBS

By the Associated Press.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 7.—The scrubs used Michigan State plays with some success against the Army varsity yesterday. The regular line stopped line plays easily but found trouble with the scrubs' version of Michigan State forward passing and several end runs caught the varsity defense napping. Only fast sprinting and accurate tackling by Carver and Elliott prevented scrub touchdowns.

HALLAHAN VICTOR OVER THE ATHLETICS FOR SECOND TIME; SIMMONS GETS TEAM'S SCORE

By J. Roy Stockton.
Of the Post-Dispatch Sport Staff.

SHIBE PARK, Philadelphia, Oct. 7.—Bill Hallahan silenced the big guns of the Philadelphia Athletics again this afternoon and the Cardinals, winning the fifth game of the world series, 5 to 1, now are leading the American League champions, three victories to two, and need to win only one more triumph to gain baseball's highest honors, the championship of the world.

St. Louis now will see the Redbirds win or lose the title that is nearly within their grasp. Today's game was the final scheduled at Philadelphia, and the sixth and seventh contests, if a seventh is necessary, will be played at Sportsman's Park Friday and Saturday.

Hallahan was not as effective as in his first start of the series, when he held the Athletics to three hits. The Mackmen today nicked Bill's left-handed delivery for nine safeties, but except in the seventh inning, when they scored their lone run, they could bunch no more than two blows.

"Pepper" Martin, the sensation of the series, today made three hits, one a home run with a man on base; batted in four runs and tied two world series batting records.

Martin now has made 12 hits in the series, equaling the mark held jointly by Buck Herzog, who made 12 hits in eight games in 1912; Joe Jackson, who did it in 1919, also in an eight-game series, and Sam Rice, who did it in seven contests in 1925. Martin has outpaced all the other holders of the record by making his dozen blows in five games.

He tied another mark by batting in four runs in one game.

"Pepper" batted fourth today and, going to the plate in the first inning with High on third, hit a long fly on which High scored the first run of the game.

Martin led off in the fifth with a safe bunt, but his mates did not score him.

Martin then singled in the eighth to score Watkins.

It was the second time that Hallahan and Martin had co-operated in beating the Athletics in the series. In the game at St. Louis last Friday Hallahan gave three hits and Martin made a single and a double, and stole second and third, scoring both runs in the Redbirds' 2-0 victory. This afternoon Hallahan was even more effective than the nine Philadelphia safeties would indicate and Martin, in making his three hits, drove in four of the five St. Louis tallies.

How Runs Were Made.

Sparky Adams started the first inning with a single to left, but had to retire and High ran for him. Frisch's single to center sent High to third and Andy scored on Martin's fly to Simmons.

Frisch's double and Martin's homer made the score 3 to 0 in the sixth. Simmons, the only member of the Athletics who hit Hallahan consistently, singled for his third hit in the seventh, took third on Foxx's single off Hallahan's glove and scored while Miller was forcing Foxx at second.

Watkins walked and stole second in the eighth and Martin scored him with a single to left.

Adams Hits and Retires.

Adams opened the game with a hot grounder down the left-field line. It would have been a double for a man with sound limbs, but Sparky, limping badly, had to stop at first. Manager Street quickly

Johnston Has Been Offered Garden Office

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.— Jimmy Johnston, veteran promoter and manager, has been offered the post of vice president and general manager of Madison Square Garden.

William F. Carey, president of the Garden, said official announcement of Johnston's engagement will be made, if and when he accepts a proposal already submitted by the Garden.

Cards Due Home 1 P. M. Tomorrow

The Cardinals hurried to their special Pennsylvania train shortly after the fifth game of the world series today and started for St. Louis. They are expected to arrive here about 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

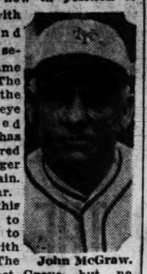

The Athletics were to leave at 8 o'clock tonight, arriving about 4:45 p. m., tomorrow. Another special train carrying members of the Professional Baseball Writers' Association of America, was to leave at 8:02 and arrive at 4 p. m., while a special for baseball fans was scheduled to leave the Broad Street Station at 4 o'clock, arriving in St. Louis at 3 tomorrow afternoon.

CARDS PROVED ABILITY TO HIT SOUTHPAWS, MCGRAW SAYS

HIGH'S SMART PLAYING HELPS OFFSET ABSENCE OF ADAMS

By John J. McGraw
Manager of the New York Giants.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—With that extra game in the bag and a day of rest ahead of them the Cardinals are now in position to come back with Derringer and wind up the series in one game at St. Louis. The little boil in the corner of his eye that bothered Derringer has about disappeared and he is eager to pitch again. His eye is clear.

John McGraw.

Naturally, this puts it up to Connie Mack to come back with Lefty Grove. The Cardinals respect Grove but no longer fear him. In both starts they have hit him hard.

In winning the fifth game of the series the Cardinals showed a clear superiority in all around play. They continued their running attack and tore into Waite Hoyt and Walberg as they had into all others except Earnshaw. Incidentally, the A's might try a comeback with Earnshaw tomorrow but I doubt it. He is big and strong and can stand it.

Pepper Martin was again the whole show, driving in four of the runs made by the Cardinals. The pitchers have worked on him every way possible but nobody seems able to stop that firebrand. He capped the climax of his popularity with players and public when he came up in a pinch and smashed a long drive into the left field stand. The ball was hit like a shot. He has now hit everything but a three-bagger.

Six Scratch Hits.

Bill Hallahan pitched another smart game. The score shows that he was hit hard but that is not actually true. At least six of the hits were scratches or hard luckers.

In every pitch Hallahan used excellent judgment. He might have had another shutout but for Andy High having made a safe play at second rather than throw to the plate.

They were three runs in the lead and the score by Simmons didn't hurt. The whole Cardinal team played smart baseball. As usual, the infields of both clubs worked clocklike. Though Williams has not been able to hit in the series, he certainly deserves credit for his brilliant fielding at shortstop. The series, by the way, has been remarkably free of bad throws. I don't believe there has been a single one when there was anything at stake.

Along with Pepper Martin, the big star of the day, was Al Simmons. Simmons is also a fighting ballplayer o fthe old school. For six innings he was the only Athletic batter to make a hit off Hallahan. Simmons and Martin are the standouts this year.

Cardinals Mit 'Em All.

To a baseball man a feature of the game was the ease with which the Cardinals hit both left and right handed pitchers. It seemed to make no difference when Walberg relieved Hoyt. They kept right on swinging and running. Gabby Street kept Watkins in the game after Walberg went in. Watkins immediately got a base on balls and stole second. Again Martin came through with a hit and scored him. It will be interesting now to note the effect of a change back to the National League bal. There is no doubt about the American League ball being faster. At least one home run cleared the fence in Philadelphia that would have been caught, I blieve, had the National League ball been in use.

Everything looks very rosy for Cardinals now. They are all set with pitchers and are also playing on their home grounds.

In this last game the A's were forced to use practically every available man outside of the pitching staff. They certainly were throwing in every possible ounce of strength. Moore, McNair, Heving and Boley ill had their chance. Against the pitching of Hallahan, however, they were helpless. Bill was just wild enough to be puzzling.

Often he got in the two-three hole but would pull himself out. Toward the end of the game he used an unusual number of slow balls and they were very effective. His smartest one was making Simmons hit at a bad one and windup an inning with two on base.

The Cardinals are still a little bit handicapped by the injury to Adams. He got in the game and made a hit but the ankle again bothered him and he had to withdraw. Andy High has been playing smart baseball and so far the absence of Sparky has caused no damaged.

NORMAN, Ok., Oct. 7.—University of Oklahoma linesmen studied Husker technique as interpreted by a pair of freshmen backfields yesterday, while Coach Ad Lindsey drilled his ball carriers in preparation for the Nebraska invasion Saturday. Hard scrimmage was deferred another day.

Wray's Column

May Not Be So Bad.

BENNY LEONARD may not be ready for the ash can, as the New York Commission seems to think he is, by again refusing to sanction his appearance before a Madison Square Garden throng. He showed a punch, at any rate—and that's more than 99 per cent of the middleweights in the ring today possess.

Leonard's weight, however, indicates that he has not had much success in getting down to his proper poundage. He scaled 152 pounds and probably, with some effort he might pare off enough more tonnage to squeeze into the welterweight maximum of 147 pounds.

If he is able to make this figure and be strong Leonard might be something to reckon with. In his normal fighting days Benny always weighed well up the fortie-, prior to training, and he had great difficulty in squeezing into the 135 limit at 2 p. m.

Can't Take It.

HOWEVER, even if he shapes up outwardly and retains his punch, there are still formidable obstacles to the comeback of this or any other fighter who has not practiced his profession for seven years. Jeffries looked great, physically, before his fight with Johnson; but he could not coordinate quickly when he entered the ring and fought as if he did not know what it was all about.

Joe Ghnouly says that Leonard has overcome that drawback an' Joe should know, because he boxed with Benny recently. But even though this is true, th- is no reason to believe that a good sock in his body will not cause Benny or any other seven-year-old rust heap to wilt likе an ice cream cone in a July sun.

It isn't that the old boys can't hit or box that handicaps them. It's their inability to recover quickly from a punch that hurts.

Retzlaff Beating Back.

CHARLEY RETZLAFF is pounding a lot of ham-and-eggers blue and winning fights, but he isn't making much progress in regaining the attention of the public.

Charley lost the public eye after the fight with Joe Sekyra, rated a "hasbeen" up to that time. Joe beat Charley and then took a couple of pastings himself, when King Levinsky and Tommy Loughran both defeated him.

That doesn't elevate Retzlaff to the championship class by considerable. The word is going around that Retzlaff won't quite do and that he comes under the general heading of "beautiful but dumb."

Certainly few fighters this writer has viewed compare with Retzlaff for conditioned physique. Primo Carnera is the only fighter I- writer knows who is uniformly in excellent physical shape to compare with Retzlaff.

They are alike in one other respect—it remains for both to prove their right to be considered in the heavyweight title class.

King Without a Crown.

HIS MAJESTY KING TUT, who signs contracts to fight under the name "Henry Tuttle," is taking an active interest in matters pertaining to the realm of pugilism, although he is a monarch without a throne.

Tomorrow night he launches a campaign to justify his royal prefix, with the lightweight championship kingdom as his goal. Jackie Fields, a welterweight, will be his opponent. That's because Tony Canzoneri refused to meet Tut until he had shown himself fully recovered from an appendix operation, Tut has been compelled to take on Fields.

Not that he needed much urging. The bout will bring in plenty of kale. Besides, it will give Tut a chance to reverse a verdict lost to Fields in earlier fighting days. Fields went on to win the welterweight title from Joe Dundee, but Tut's only claim to royalty was his assumed fighting monaker.

A Regul-r Fighting Man.

Jackie has slipped and his crown has passed on. His recent fight was none too good. But what with weight advantages and the fact that Tut has not had a severe battle to test his strength, there is some question if he will win. Almost to a man the middlewest is for Tut who, for all that he has never won a title is one of the best little fighting men the ring has known.

There are no dull moments when Tut is in the ring—unless the enemy causes them. It is typical of this little terrier that he sits on the edge of the chair between rounds, pushing his handlers away and waiting impatiently for the gong to sound the next.

If he beats Fields and gets that fight with Canzoneri there's a chance for the boys to see what a fight looks like. They'll have to carry one or the other to his corner when these wildcats get through clawing.

The chief executive, financial manager of the 1894 team, has as his aide in planning the reunion this year, Wilbur of the Interior Department, also a Stanford graduate.

Fourteen members of the first-string lineup of 35 years ago are included in the group to be invited. One, Herbert Kennedy, fullback, now is counsel for the Commerce Department.

The others are scattered over the country.

Cards Win and Need Only One More Victory to Gain Title sent in Andy High to run for Adams.

Watkins filed to Simmons, but Frisch singled to center, sending High to third, and on Haas' futile throw for High, Frisch continued to second. Pepper Martin, batting in fourth position, because of his fine slugging record in the previous games, connected solidly, but Simmons hauled down his line drive. However, it was good for a run, as High scored after the catch. Williams threw out Hafey to end the inning.

Watkins' speed prevented Bishop, first up for the Athletics in the opening inning, from getting a fluke hit. Bishop sent a high fly to short right center, and it was out of Frisch's reach. But Watkins raced in for a good running catch.

Hallahan seemed to be wild, pitching to Haas, throwing him three balls and one strike, but Bill then curved two over the plate and Haas took them both. Cochrane was easy, sending a pop fly to Frisch behind the mound.

Hit by Bottomley Wasted.

Walberg began to warm up for the American Leaguers when Bottomley led off in the second inning with a line single to right. Rube soon sat down again, however, as Wilson, failing in an attempt to sacrifice, filed to Miller. Gelbert forced Bottomley at second and Williams, despite a juggling fumble, threw out Hallahan.

The Athletics tried their first daring base running of the series in the second inning, but they ran into a double play for their pains.

Al Simmons started with a two-base smash against the score board in right center and held second while High made a good stop and threw out Foxx.

Miller then hit a high bounder to Gelbert and Charley's throw barely nipped Miller at first. Simmons tried to score from second on the play, but Bottomley's relay to Wilson, doubled him at the plate.

Three Up and Three Down.

The Cardinals went down in order in the third. High grounded to Bishop. Watkins worked his string to three and two and popped to Bishop and Frisch filed to Haas.

Hallahan had impressive speed in the third and three batters were retired easily because they couldn't time their swings to meet Bill's flashing curve.

Dykes hit one on the end of the bat, a gentle roller to Bottomley. Williams fouled to High and Hoyt bounced politely to High.

Martin Can Bunt, Too.

Pepper Martin showed something fancy in the bunting line to open the fourth inning. Pepper bunted down the first base line and it seemed that he was an easy out, but when Foxx fielded the ball and reached to tag Pepper he found the runner already across the bag. It was Martin's tenth hit of the series.

After Hafey struck out, Bottomley singled to right for his second hit of the game, sending Martin to third, but a double play nullified the fine start. Wilson lined to Bishop and his throw to Foxx doubled Bottomley off first.

Bottomley made a fancy catch of Bishop's foul to start the Mackmen's fourth. Frisch and Sunny Jim collided as the latter backed up to make the catch, but Jim, turning a somesault, held the ball. Hafey moved toward the foul line for Haas' line drive and Cochrane fouled to Wilson.

Hoyt disposed of the Cards without trouble in the fifth. Dykes shifted toward short to throw out Gelbert and the smoothly fielding Williams scooped up Hallahan's grounder and pegged to Foxx for the out. High lined to left, but Simmons ran in for the catch.

Hallahan Gets Out of Hole.

Simmons made the second hit off Hallahan, a single, to start the Athletics' fifth and in doing it, he threw a momentary scare into the Cardinal supporters.

Al hit a hot smash back to Hallahan and the ball caromed off Bill's leg into left field. It was a forceful drive and Wilson and the infielders gathered around Bill. But the southpaw didn't show any signs of being hurt.

Foxx drew a pass and Miller tried to sacrifice, but Bottomley ran in and caught his foul pop fly. Jim then ran back for Dykes' foul and his throw to High halted Simmons in his bluff to take third. Hallahan completed the job of pitching out of danger by striking out Williams. The shortstop had a call of three and one, but Bill grooved the next one and after Williams fouled one against the stand, Bill fooled the batter with a low curve.

Home Run for Pepper.

Pepper Martin removed any lingering doubt there may have been as to the genuineness of his bid for a niche in the Hall of Fame as the hero of the 1931 series when he drove a home run into the left-field seats in the sixth inning.

Watkins opened with a fly to Miller, but Frisch, swinging at a pitch outside, pushed a double down the left-field line, the ball caroming off Dykes' outstretched glove. Pepper then responded to the usual cheer from the stands by slamming a four-bagger into the upper deck of the left-field stand, scoring behind Frisch. The Cardinal players rushed out of the dugout to greet their hero and shake his hand.

Hafey hit a hot drive to left, but it went straight to Simmons and Bottomley ended the frame with a fly to Haas.

Walberg Succeds Hoyt.

Connie Mack had learned by this time that his regulars couldn't hit Hallahan and he sent in two pinch hitters in the American Leaguers' sixth. They both failed, however. After Hoyt popped to Frisch, McNair batted for Bishop and fouled to Wilson, and Moore, swinging for Haas, filed to Watkins.

Mack also decided that he needed a new pitcher and when the Cards went to bat in the seventh, Walberg was on the mound. McNair went to second base, Simmons shifted to center and Moore went to left field. Wilson greeted Walberg with a single to left, but tried to steal second and was the first man thrown out by Cochrane during the series. Williams took the throw at second. The shortstop threw out Gelbert and Hallahan took a called third strike for the third out.

Simmons Finally Scores.

The Athletics scored their first run of the series off Hallahan in the seventh inning. Cochrane opened with a pop fly to Frisch, but Simmons, with a call of three and one, slammed a single to left for his third hit, also the third off Hallahan. Foxx hit a hot grounder back at Bill and the southpaw deflected the ball out of Frisch's reach, Simmons racing to third and Foxx reaching first. On Miller's grounder to High, Simmons could have been thrown out at the plate, but Andy tried for a double play via second, permitting Simmons to cross the plate. The double play was not completed, but Foxx was forced at second and after Dykes singled off High's glove, moving Miller to second, Frisch went into center field for Williams' pop fly.

Martin Ties Record.

Pepper Martin tied the record for total hits in a world series when he singled in the eighth inning for his third straight safety of the game. After High was called out on strikes, Watkins walked and stole second. Frisch fouled to Moore but Martin lined a single to left, scoring Watkins.

Pepper then tried to steal second but was out, Cochrane to McNair. The crowd was pulling for Pepper and yelled its disapproval of Umpire Stark's decision.

A Near Rally.

Heving batted for Walberg starting the American League half of the eighth and filed to Watkins. McNair was even easier for Hallahan, swinging viciously at a third strike.

Moore followed with a high bounder that hit near the plate. Hallahan fielded the ball near the third base line but had no chance for a play and held the ball. It was a lucky single. Cochrane then hit a hot smash down the first base line. Bottomley charged the drive, but the ball bounced off his arm and rolled into foul territory for a single, moving Moore to second.

There was a roar of hope from the crowd as Simmons went to the plate. A homer would have tied the score, but Al had done his share of hitting and his tap to High forced Moore at third.

Rommel took over the pitching for the Athletics in the ninth and Hafey greeted the right-hander with a hot grounder that caromed off Dykes' glove for a single. Bottomley forced Chick at second, Foxx to Williams, but Wilson singled to right center, moving Bottomley to third.

Hallahan followed with a fly to Simmons and High ended the frame with a grounder to McNair.

Foxx started the Mackmen's ninth with a safe bunt. The ball stopped a few feet from the place, but Wilson didn't see the ball, apparently thinking it had been fouled over his head. Miller forced Foxx, Gelbert to Frisch, and Miller in turn was forced by Dykes, Frisch to Gelbert. Williams hit a pop fly to center, but Martin missed his diving attempt at a shoestring catch and the ball fell safe for a single, sending Dykes to third.

Athletics Made Favorites to Win The Sixth Game

SEESAWING with the alternating victories of the Cardinals and Athletics, the St. Louis National League club again became the world series favorites, following their victory in the fifth game of the title struggle, today. Commissioner Tom Kearney reported that the odds against the Redbirds are now 7 to 10, with the Athletics even money.

For Friday's game the odds are Cardinals at even money and the Athletics 7 to 10 favorites.

Kearney explained his odds against the Athletics for Friday's game by saying that he expected Earnshaw to pitch and win that contest.

KANSAS U. STARTS BASKETBALL PRACTICE

LAWRENCE, Kan., Oct. 7.—Basketball practice at the University of Kansas got under way last night with 17 candidates reporting to Coach F. G. Allen.

Five of those out for the session were lettermen from the 1931 squad which won the Big Six conference championship. Practice will consist of an hour's session two nights a week until the football season ends.

ALLEN WHITLOW SIGNED TO BOX ON BANDY'S CARD

In conformity with his announced plan to show boxers new to the St. Louis fans, Eddie "Kid" Bandy, who will make his promotional debut at the Coliseum Monday night with 46-round ring program, today announced that he had signed Allen Whitlow, Phoenix, Ariz., junior lightweight for a six-round contest. Bandy expected to select Whitlow's opponent from a long list of junior lightweights and featherweights later today or early tomorrow.

Whitlow is not well known here, as this will be his first engagement in a local ring. Out on the Pacific Coast and in the Southwest where he has done most of his boxing during a career that started in 1928, the Arizonian is considered one of the ranking 130-pounders in the country.

Upon Benny's promise to pair him with some outstanding boxer in a feature Coliseum main-event contest, Whitlow accepted the preliminary engagement.

The Arizonian has a fair record. He holds decisions over Young Nationalista and Trip Limbacco, Filipino stars well known to ring followers, and California Joe Lynch, who a few years ago was imported from California for feature contests at Madison Square Garden in New York. In return bouts with Limbacco and Lynch, Whitlow scored knockouts over the Filipino in four rounds and over Lynch in seven heats.

Bandy completed the last of the three ten-round bouts on his program last night when he signed Bobby Green, Nashville (Tenn.) light-heavyweight, to box shifty Chick Rains, the Cherokee Indian, who is now fighting out of St. Louis.

Green, who has scored 22 knockouts in 80 fights, has been a headline attraction in Memphis, Louisville, Nashville, Atlanta, New Orleans, Jacksonville and a number of other Southern cities for several years. He was recommended to Bandy as a good puncher and a pleasing fighter.

Rains has made an exceptional record since taking up his abode in St. Louis. Introducing himself to the St. Louis fight fans with a decision over Tom Pivac, local heavyweight, early last summer at the Battery A, Rains has since defeated Russ Conklin, Joe Lohman, Steve Marre, Buck Easterling, Johnny Hochstraw and lost a close decision to Clyde Chastain, the latter an entrant in the tournament to select a successor to Mickey Walker as middleweight champion at Milwaukee. Although normally a middleweight, Rains recently stepped into the heavyweight ranks and defeated Big Boy Peterson.

Snyder and Johnny Kaiser, who is campaigning for a bout with Battling Battalino, the 126-pound champion, will work out daily at the National until the day of the Coliseum program. Kaiser is scheduled to meet Harry Forbes in a 10-round contest.

BUFFALO DOG WINS EMPIRE STATE DERBY FOR BEST HUNTERS

CANANDAIGUA, N. Y., Oct. 7.—Bella Vista Tiny, diminutive female setter, owned by R. R. Huntley, well known sportsman of Buffalo, N. Y., won the Derby of the Empire State Pheasant Dog Association's field trials, which was decided here yesterday.

Second place was awarded to Glendale Madam Queen, setter, owned by Judge Harry R. Hyde of Ridgeway, Pa., while Ruby Taylor, also a setter, owned by Jos. C. Williams of Newcastle, Pa., pulled up in third place, after having given the winner of second a close brush for the higher honors.

The stake is for setters and pointers under two years old and the game bird on which they are called upon to show their ability is the English ring-necked pheasant.

There was little of an exciting nature in the performance of the dogs, but Bella Vista Tiny easily led the lot for the high honors. In her first series heat she made three points and ran her heat with well sustained pace and range, although the weather was very warm, making it difficult for many of the dogs to go the 30-minute route with undiminished speed.

MARTIN HAS CHANCE TO TIE WORLD SERIES STOLEN BASE RECORD

more games in which to accomplish the feat, whereas Martin has turned the trick in five—for an average of two hits a game.

Ties Runs Batted in Mark.

The other record equaled by Martin was for runs batted in during one world series contest with a total of four. This has been done but five times, the last by Al Simmons of the Athletics in the series with the Cubs in 1929.

Martin still has a chance to equal or beat another, that for stolen bases in a series, which stands at six made by Jimmy Slagle, of the Cubs in 1907.

It was a hot sultry day and for a time this morning, it appeared there might be a postponement because of rain. The field, however, was in good condition as the infield had been covered by a tarpaulin. As a result of the threatening weather, the fans were even slower in appearing than on the two previous days. When the Cardinals went to the hill for their batting practice only the unreserved seats in the left field stand were filled.

Hallahan's Great Record.

Bill Hallahan now has a record of three victories against one defeat at the hands of the Athletics in world series competition and in 29 innings, he has turned Mack's sluggers back with only three runs, which is truly a sensational record and makes it certain that Hallahan must be considered highly when great world series pitchers are named.

Hallahan was not as effective today as in the first game he hurled at St. Louis, when he blanked the Mackmen, but he had enough to stop the Athletics in all but one pinch.

Five of the nine hits off his delivery were infield smashes, which were fielded by men who could not make a throw for the out, or bounded off the gloves of the infielders.

With Hallahan winning, it appears that Street is better fixed for pitchers than Mack, inasmuch as he has Paul Derringer and Burleigh Grimes, while Mack must come back with Grove and Earnshaw, and each of these stars have been beaten by the Redbirds in their attempt to bring the title back to the National League.

Then fans were a lot later in arriving at the park, but before the game was well under way, all the seats were taken.

The Redbirds departed on a special train at 5 o'clock and are due in St. Louis around 2 p. m. tomorrow.

According to local experts, that homer Jimmy Foxx hit against Johnson was the longest drive he ever made in his career. It measured more than 425 feet on a fly.

Tony Kaufmann and Johnny Kerdock, southpaw, did the batting practice pitching for Manager Street.

Williams' strikeout in the fifth was his eighth of the series. He needs only two more to tie the series record.

When the Athletics scored in the seventh it ended Hallahan's scoreless inning streak, which had reached 15.

LEONARD'S KAY VICTORY FAILS TO PLEASE FANS AND COMMISSIO

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—As the result of Benny Leonard's somewhat questionable knockout of Pal Silvers last night, the New York State Athletic Commission today refused to sanction a bout between the former lightweight champion and Paulie Walker of Trenton, N. J., in Madison Square Garden Oct. 16.

Fifteen thousand persons saw Leonard in his "comeback" bout, most of them jeered the decision.

Leonard floored Silvers in the second round of their 10-round bout in the Queensboro stadium last night, and Silvers stayed down for the full count although ringside experts at the ringside thought the blows were anything but hard. After the count of 10, Silvers bounced to his feet, apparently unhurt, and ready to continue. Referee Arthur Donovan waved him to his corner and lifted Leonard's hand as the winner.

Benny, a bit plump around the waistline, showed the effects of his seven-year layoff from the ring. The undefeated lightweight champion appeared "stage struck" in the first round and the sudden ending of the bout in the second round made it impossible to decide just what chance Leonard has of winning the middle-weight title, the goal on which he says his eyes are fixed.

Jeers Drown Cheers.

There were a few cheers when the referee lifted Leonard's hand, but these were drowned in a storm of boos from a major portion of the capacity crowd.

Leonard took the match with Silvers last week after the New York State Athletic Commission had declined to sanction a bout between Leonard and Paulie Walker until Benny first proved his ability in a smaller arena.

Leonard weighed 152 pounds, Silvers 157.

NAVY BACKFIELD STAR OUT FOR TWO WEEKS WITH TWISTED ANKL

By the Associated Press.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 7.—"Bullet Lou" Kirn, battering ram of the Navy backfield, yesterday was declared definitely out of the Middie-University of Maryland clash next Saturday, through injury of a twisted ankle.

Kirn was out nearly all last week and did not play in the opening game Saturday, but took part in a strenuous practice session Monday. The injury was aggravated then, Coach Rip Miller said, and the little halfback will be pointed for the Princeton game two weeks hence.

SOUTHERN TEAM HAS BEATEN THE BULLDOGS TWICE IN SUCCESSION

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The Bulldogs of the South, Georgia, and the Bulldogs of the North, Yale, will clash in the Yale Bowl this week in a "dog-fight" that should rival anything else the Eastern football schedule has to offer.

Yale and Georgia have met annually in football since 1923 and although the Elis hold an edge of five games to three the advantage in recent years has been all with Georgia. The Southerners, after suffering four successive defeats, first conquered Yale in 1927, 14—10. Yale came back to take the 1928 encounter, 21—6, but was beaten in 1929 in the only game of the series played at Athens, Ga., 15—0. Last year the Southerners emerged victors, 18—14, after one of the most sensational games of the season.

The teams again appear evenly matched. Yale loafed in its 19—0 triumph over Maine, last week, while Georgia's high-powered attack crushed Virginia Poly, 40—0.

Eastern teams will be involved in eight other intersectional struggles, six of them of major caliber.

Army's cadets will need their best to turn back Michigan State's heavy-scoring brigade.

Navy's foe, Maryland, probably will be troublesome.

Syracuse, after two easy games, bucks up against tougher opposition in Ohio Wesleyan, one of the strongest teams of the Ohio "Big Five."

In the South, Carnegie Tech will attempt to stop Georgia Tech with prospects none too bright.

Villanova will tangle with Duke.

In games of lesser importance, Cornell should have a romp with Richmond of the Virginia Conference; and New River of West Virginia will clash with Dakota Wesleyan.

Train in High Temperature.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 7.—Despite high temperatures, Coach Dana X. Bible yesterday put his University of Nebraska football squad through a two-hour scrimmage against the Husker frosh. Three varsity elevens saw service. The first varsity eleven was almost the same as the team which battled the Northwestern Wildcats on even terms during the second and third quarters of their game last Saturday.

Sport Salad

Lynch Him!

A GUY I hate
Is one Bing Miller;
He spoiled old Burleigh's
No-hit thriller.

Strange as It Seems.

The Cards were trimmed five times in a row by left-handed Bill Walker. Then along came "Lefty" Grove with 31 games under his belt and what the Redbirds did to "Lefty" is history. How do you account for that, Commissioner? All you can do is score another for the uncertainties of baseball.

Burleigh Grimes hasn't been feeling so well lately which may account for him giving the A's a hit in the eighth and ninth innings.

Two All.

SYL JOHNSON couldn't go the route,
And when the Mackmen knocked him out,
Jim Lindsey ambled in.
But as the A's had gained three yards,
It simply wasn't in the cards
For Gabby's boys to win.

But Martin once again was there
With jingle-bells and braided hair
To give the fans a thrill;
Again he played hair-raising ball,
But Pepper cannot win 'em all
Despite his dash and skill.

The "Wild Horse" Earnshaw couldn't tame
Although he pitched a two-hit
And "Pepper" got them both.
And while the race is getting tight
The Cards have just begun to fight
On that we'll take an oath.

SCRIMMAGE THE ORDER AT BOTH LOCAL COLLEGES

Both the St. Louis Billikens and the Washington Bears are doing plenty of scrimmaging these days for hard games expected this weekend. After grinding workouts yesterday, the same plan is expected to be followed today as none of the first-string players are out with injuries.

At St. Louis U., Coach Walsh is experimenting with a new backfield combination which includes Joe Stephan in Pike's place at quarter and Lee Savage in the vacated half-back position. Bassett, also a quarter, may be given a trial at half. Tom Tierney, with a fractured thumb, is not likely to play against Coe, Friday night but all the other Billikens are ready.

Expecting a hard tussle with Westminster, Saturday, Coach Sharpe and his assistants are driving the Bears hard. The Bears' defense is strong enough but a scoring punch must be developed. Frederickson, the big sophomore back, may do the punting for Washington, play in that department having proven unsatisfactory in the two opening games.

Westminster, defeated by the Bears by two touchdowns a year ago, has been thoroughly scouted and the verdict of the scouts has been "pretty strong."

STAR FULLBACK MAY BE LOST TO WILDCATS FOR NOTRE DAME GAME

EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 7.—"Reb" Russell, star fullback, got such a severe drubbing from his old Nebraska mates last week that he may be missing from Northwestern's lineup for the important Notre Dame game Saturday. Russell failed to show up for yesterday's drill, his back is lame and he may not get in the big game.

Al Moore, a great halfback prospect who has been on the injured list, returned to offset the Russell loss. He showed up well in the long scrimmage against the freshmen in which forward passes, offensively and defensively, were stressed.

M'CREADY SIGNS FOR COLISEUM MAT BOUT

Announcement was made today by Promoter Tom Packs that he has signed Earl McCready for a preliminary event on the Coliseum wrestling card for Thursday night, Oct. 15, and that negotiations have been opened with John Maxos, New York Greek, with a view to sending him against McCready in a return match with time restrictions of 30 minutes.

The Coliseum card will be featured by two finish matches of the one-fall variety. Ernie Dusek of Omaha meets the mauling Zaharias in one of the finish bouts, while Pat O'Shocker is slated to engage either Jim McMillen or Joe "Toots" Mondt in the other. SCOTLAND AND CASH PLAY WIN EARLY RACES AT FAIRMOUNT

By Damon Kerby

FAIRMOUNT RACE TRACK, Oct. 7.—A fast track awaited the horses in this afternoon's racing program, but there was no certainty that the same conditions would continue to prevail through the eight races, for there was a distinct threat of rain in the bluish-gray clouds that hemmed in the horizon. Nickelson, the chestnut gelding seven years old by Ormond and Miss Malvenia, was expected to be the public choice in the top race of the day, a six-furlong sprint which was listed sixth on the program. Other entries in the race were Merry Windsor, Bill Orange, Linmast, Judge Direnzo and While Away.

Scotland, the brown gelding seven-year-old owned by E. A. Hardwick, won the six furlong first race, with Stick Around second, two and a half lengths back, and Jim Ormont third. Scotland took the lead away from the pacemaking Stick Around on the far turn and then came on to win easily. Scotland, the favorite, ran the six furlongs in 1:13 2-5 and paid $4.84 to win.

W. M. Cain's Cash Play, under a good ride by Tommy May, made a driving finish to win the second race, at six furlongs, beating out the veteran Harass by a length with Roll 'Em Down third. Cash Play's time was 1:13 1-5 and he paid $6 for a $2 mutuel ticket.

A fractious field of 11 three-year-olds went to the post in the third race, at one mile, with Wise Susan the favorite. Sedgie, owned by J. H. Edwards, proved to be the winner, two and a half lengths ahead of Carilina in second place, with My Ideal third.

Daily Double Pays $106.72.

The "Daily Double" with Cash Play and Sedgie forming the winning combination in the second and third races, paid $106.72, and 53 winning tickets were sold, it was announced.

America's most economical truck

CHEVROLET

By actual road performance, week after week, month after month—the six-cylinder Chevrolet has proved its right to be called America's most economical truck. Owners have found that Chevrolet trucks costs less for gas and oil, less for upkeep and less for service than any other truck—regardless of the number of cylinders. And price-comparison will show that this big, sturdy Chevrolet Six is one of the lowest-priced trucks you can buy.

Today, any truck user can apply this economy to his own particular work. The current Chevrolet commercial line covers practically every delivery and hauling need. Twenty-five different models. Half-ton and 1½-ton pay-load capacities. Three wheelbase lengths. A wide variety of Chevrolet-designed and Chevrolet-built bodies. Just name the type of truck you need—and you will very likely find it in this all-inclusive Chevrolet display.

Each Chevrolet truck has the speed, flexibility and pulling ability of a 50-horsepower six-cylinder engine—25% more powerful than any other engine in a truck priced so low. Maximum load-capacity is assured by unusually large bodies, supported by long rigid frames and long parallel-mounted springs. And Chevrolet has built every part of its chassis and bodies sturdily and well, using fine materials and following sound principles of design.

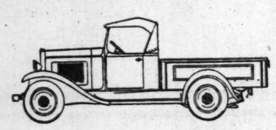

Now is the time to settle the question, as to which truck to buy in the low-price field. Look over the line of 25 models on this page, and pick out the body-type that does your work best. Note the very low price at which it sells. Consider the point that hundreds of the nation's biggest businesses are turning to Chevrolet for lowest transportation cost. Then see your Chevrolet dealer for a demonstration and full information about this great American truck value.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—A monetary policy which will establish the pound sterling "in confidence and authority" must be inaugurated without delay, Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald declared in an election manifesto issued tonight.

His declaration also foreshadowed negotiations looking toward international agreements "which will remove some of the most fruitful causes of the economic misfortunes—such as war debts and reparations—from which the whole world is now suffering."

MacDonald's manifesto was issued this evening prior to a radio speech opening the general election campaign.

"The present National Government was formed in haste to meet a swiftly approaching crisis," he said, "it stopped borrowing, imposed economies and balanced the budget.

Internal Conditions.

"Conditions of internal financial weakness made it impossible, however, for that Government to achieve its immediate object. Sterling came off the gold standard and the country must now go through a period of recovery and readjustment during which steps of the utmost importance, nationally and internationally, must be taken to insure stability and to prevent recurrence of the recent troubles."

In the face of the present changing conditions nobody can lay out a detailed program on which specific pledges can be given, said MacDonald, and therefore "the Government must be free to consider every proposal likely to help, such as tariffs, expansion of exports and contraction of imports, commercial treaties, and mutual economic arrangements with the dominions."

Great Britain plunged into a turbulent general election campaign today with the most contradictory lineup of issues and candidates in a generation.

MacDonald Asks for Free Hand.

Thirty million men and women voters are being asked to determine on Oct. 27 the life or death of a Government which is led by a Socialist Prime Minister without a party, supported by a coalition of Conservatives and Liberals who have been thrown together by political fate and calumnied by a united Labor party which vows its extinction.

MacDonald has announced he will run from his present constituency of Seaham Harbor, which has already rejected him, on a platform of what he describes as a "free hand" in dealing with the nation's problems. Conservative and Liberal leaders have indicated they will give him an open field by not nominating candidates from that district.

Stanley Baldwin, Conservative leader, received a vote of confidence from his followers last night but it was not clear whether they were expressing faith in his leadership or in his protective tariff policy. He was known to be opposed by the Empire free trade group of Lord Beaverbrook.

David Lloyd George, ailing Liberal chieftain, continued his antagonism toward the election and witnesses his party slowly drifting away from his toward a protectionist standard. His leadership was being divided between Sir Herbert Samuel, Cabinet representative, who has been criticized by his small group because of indecision, and Sir John Simon, who is rallying another faction behind a strong tariff banner.

Financial Parley Considered.

In the event of a victory for the National Government in the forthcoming general election, Great Britain will consider summoning an international financial conference, J. H. Thomas, Secretary for Dominions and Colonies, said.

The British Parliament was prorogued today with a speech from the throne. King George, in his speech, briefly summarized the efforts of the Government to pull the nation out of its financial and economic troubles.

King George's Speech.

King George's speech said:

"I have been following with interest and sympathy the resumed deliberations of the round-table conference. I trust that joint endeavor may produce an agreement on a plan which will commend itself to the judgment of wise statesmanship.

"In the last few weeks my people have been called upon to face a financial and economic crisis which continues to give cause for anxiety.

"Measures taken by my Ministers with the support of Parliament to meet this emergency involve sacrifices from every member of the community. I am confident that as on former occasions in the history of the country, every citizen will co-operate to the utmost of his power in restoring prosperity to the nation."

President of Spain Attempts To Resign, Reconsiders Decision

Leaders Induce Alcala Zamora, Stung by Criticism, to Hold on Awhile—Crisis Impends on Religious Issues.

By the Associated Press.

MADRID, Oct. 7.—President Niceto Alcala Zamora presented his resignation to the National Assembly last night, but withdrew it shortly afterward.

In presenting his resignation he said he was moved by criticism of his administration by a Deputy who is also a member of the committee on Spain's proposed new Constitution. The criticism, Alcala Zamora said, "made it clear" that he was serving as President "without the approval of the party." Socialists and Radical Socialists, he added, seemed to have no confidence in him.

Party leaders immediately asked the President to reconsider his decision. He agreed to continue in his post until the work of the assembly on the new Constitution is farther advanced.

"I wish to resign," he said, "but the difficulty of forming a new Government now makes it imperative for me to continue indefinitely. However, the hour has arrived when you gentlemen must begin to think of my successor."

The assembly adjourned immediately.

Alcala Zamora's attempt to resign was regarded as presaging the most critical period for the provisional Government in view of impending debate over religious clauses in the Constitution. The Cabinet was said to be divided over questions of religious freedom, family life and education, all of which are included in the scope of the projected Constitution, and Alcala Zamora is said to have lost prestige among his colleagues. His retirement has frequently been predicted in favor of Foreign Minister Allejandro Lerroux.

JOBLESS MOB FIGHTS POLICE IN ENGLAND

Crowd Tries Gandhi's Passive Resistance Idea Until Horsemen Charge.

By the Associated Press.

MANCHESTER, England, Oct. 7.—Taking a suggestion from Mahatma Gandhi, several hundred jobless men and women sat on their haunches in the middle of a street here today and refused to move until mounted police charged, swinging their clubs.

Their passive resistance flared into action quickly after that and in a fight which lasted half an hour they bombarded the police with bricks, broke one policeman's leg and carried away several of their own number, one of them a woman, who had been hurt.

There was to have been an open air mass meeting, but the police had ordered that it could not take place. Defying the order, the crowd gathered in a public square and refused to move on until the mounted men galloped up.

GANDHI GETS RESTLESS AT PARLEY IN LONDON

Has Desire to Go Home, but Thinks He'll Stay Until After British Election.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Although he appreciates that the forthcoming general election and Britain's financial difficulties have necessarily made the Indian question a secondary issue, Mahatma Gandhi is becoming restless.

"I have been in England nearly a month now," he said yesterday, "and I have accomplished nothing except to become acquainted with England's poor and unemployed.

"If, however, the government will give me certain pledges respecting its future line of action in handling the Indian issue I am willing to remain here until after the election on Oct. 27. I am not one to strike his opponent while he is down.

"England must be given a chance to regain its feet but at the same time the Indian question can not go unsolved indefinitely.

"When I return to India, which I hope will be before the snow flies in England, I must have something tangible to offer my people in the way of independence. Otherwise we must renew the fight against our masters, which God forbid, because if the struggle is revived I fear Indians not only will be fighting Englishmen but one Indian community will be pitted against another in racial strife. That is one reason we must settle this communal problem once for all."

Prime Minister MacDonald said the general election would not interfere with the Indian round-table conference and that the Government would pursue its intention to settle the Indian problem before the year is over.

Gandhi said at a meeting of the friends of India Society that he was encountering "interminable obstacles" at the round table conference.

The British press, he said, is carrying on "a horrible campaign of misrepresentation" against him, and this he added, was making the work doubly difficult.

BIG GAIN IN PROSECUTIONS UNDER NATIONAL BANKING LAW

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Federal Criminal prosecutions for national banking law violations nearly doubled during the fiscal wear ending June 30.

The Justice Department says "A great variety of cases arose under violations of the national, Federal reserve and farm loan acts.

"There was a material increase in the number of criminal national banking cases, which increased from 216 in the previous year to 427.

"Cases arising under the Federal reserve act totaled 34 with 32 disposed of and under the Federal farm loan act 14 cases were instituted and 18 terminated."

The Government instituted 178 criminal cases under the bankruptcy act, disposing of 197 with a record of 108 convictions and 87 pleas of guilty.

Other records of criminal law enforcement included:

Lawyer-Banker Leaves $1,000,000.

Among the bequests were a $50,000 trust gift for the fund of the class of 1875 of Yale University, and a gift to the Russel Trust Association of New Haven, Conn.

LINDBERGHS END TOUR, TO SAIL FOR HOME TOMORROW

Air Trip Called Off at Shanghai Due to Death of Senator Morrow, Father of Colonel's Wife.

By the Associated Press.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 7.—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh abandoned their aerial tour of the Far East today and announced they would start home tomorrow by steamer and railroad.

The flyers made their decision after studying messages they received along with news of the death in Englewood, N. J., Monday of Senator Dwight W. Morrow, Mrs. Lindbergh's father.

Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh made arrangements to sail tomorrow for Nagasaki, Japan, on the steamer Shanghai Maru. They will go to Yokohama by rail and then sail Saturday on the liner President Jefferson for Seattle, where they will arrive Oct. 20.

Their damaged airplane remained aboard the British aircraft carrier Hermes, which brought the Lindberghs here from Hankow yesterday. The plane was damaged at Hankow last week when it capsized after being lowered from the Hermes preparatory to a flood survey flight for the Chinese Government. Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh were thrown into the river, but were picked up by a launch.

The plane probably will be turned over to China Airways, Inc., for shipment to the Lockheed factory at Los Angeles.

It was definitely established that neither the crew of the Hermes nor the apparatus of the aircraft carrier could be blamed for the accident. The plane capsized as Lindbergh started to swing it about when it was caught by a current and before it had been released from the lowering cable. The plane was not equipped to release itself automatically from the cable.

Many of China's leaders have sent Mrs. Lindbergh messages of condolence on the death of her father.

Morrow Funeral Brief and Simple

ENGLEWOOD, N. J., Oct. 7. — In the suburban Presbyterian church which he and Mrs. Morrow had attended for 26 years a brief and simple funeral service was conducted for Dwight W. Morrow today.

Only the presence of a large number of distinguished men and and the great banks of flowers were evidence of Senator Morrow's position in the affairs of the nation. Eulogy, honorary pallbearers, a long motor cavalcade were lacking.

Many of those who attended the service, including former rPesident Coolidge, had known Dwight Morrow long before he became a public man, or even a partner of J. P. Morgan.

Seated near his wife and children were Vice President Curtis, who had brought to Mrs. Morrow a personal message of condolence from President Hoover, Secretary of State Stimson, Secretary of the Navy Adams, and Assistant Secretary of War F. Trubee Davison. Nearby weer representatives of foreign Governments and bankers and business men whose names are known all over the world.

Also in the church were servants of the Morrow household and as many of his old neighbors and fellow townsmen as the building, with its limited seating capacity, could accommodate. More than 3000 others stood outside, bared headed.

Twenty-six United States Senators arrived at Newark to attend the services for their colleague.

Other delegations included the New Jersey Legislature, the board of trustees of Amherst College, the New Jersey State Board of Institution and Agencies, members of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., of which Mr. Morrow was once a partner, the Amherst College class of 1895, the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Flags everywhere were at half staff. Englewood schools and public buildings were closed by proclamation of Mayor Kitchel, and all business and industry agreed to shut down at 1 o'clock.

The local telegraph office was open all night, receiving hundreds of messages from every corner of the globe. The four florists, unable to handle the rush of floral tributes telegraphed from other cities, sent to Newark and New York for additional pieces and help.

ORLANDO PAYS VISIT TO U. S.

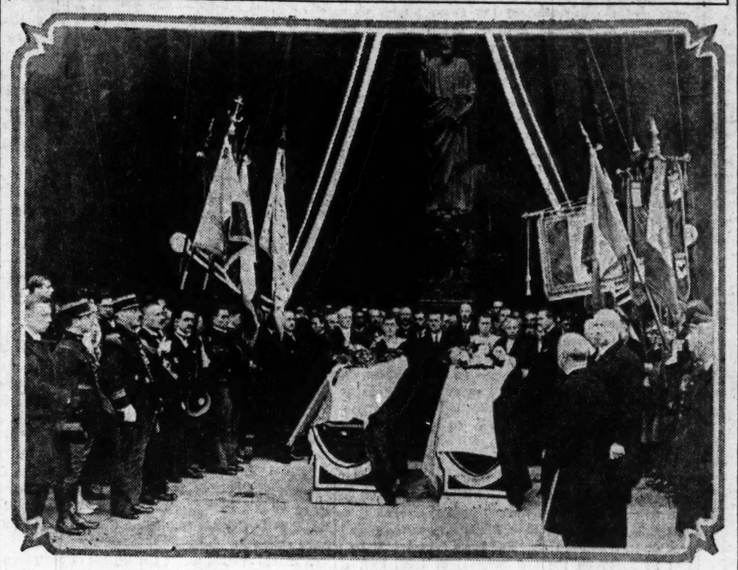

Wartime Premier of Italy Predicts Bright Future for America.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Vittorio Emanuele Orlando, who as wartime Premier of Italy aided in effecting the Versailles peace treaty, predicted yesterday for America "the greatest and surest promise of the future."

Orlando, here to visit relatives and to tour the country briefly, said in a statement, "the sentiment of the American people agrees perfectly with that of the Italian people. "They both long for peace with utmost sincerity and therefore they also desire to promote the necessary way leading to peace, disarmament."

STATE DEPARTMENT WASHES HANDS OF LUCAS' RADIO TALK

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Robert H. Lucas, executive head of the Republican National Committee, did not consult with the State Department prior to his radio address Saturday night, in which he announced that the "Prime Minister of Germany" was expected to pay an early visit to this country. As is known, Germany has no "prime minister," the head of the Cabinet being Chancellor Bruening, who has since declared that he has no plans for visiting the United States.

A responsible official at the State Department said yesterday that the department knew nothing of Lucas' address until after it was delivered. He added that "perhaps it would have been better if Mr. Lucas had consulted the department before making the statement."

BRITAIN FOUND NOT GUILTY OF BRIBERY CHARGE

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 7.—State Representative Edward L. Britain of Greene County, charged with accepting a bribe of $400 from State Treasurer Larry Brunk during the 1931 session of the Legislature, was acquitted here this afternoon by a jury in the Cole County Circuit Court. The jury, receiving the case at 1:50 p. m., took only two ballots and was out only 20 minutes. Britain, on the stand, made a general denial of the charges.

The first ballot was 11 to one for acquittal. The verdict was received without a demonstration. Britain and his wife shook hands with Britain's attorneys and members of the jury, then went to the adjoining office of Circuit Clerk Richard Nacy to listen to radio returns of the last inning of the world series game. Britain said he was going to St. Louis Friday to attend the sixth game of the world series.

Britain testified on direct examination that he had never solicited any payment from Brunk, that he had not received any money from the Treasurer and denied Brunk's charge that he had accepted money to use his vote and his influence to obtain a report favorable to Brunk from a House Committee, of which Britain was a member, which was investigating Brunk's official conduct.

Brunk testified that he gave Britain $400 in marked currency in

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Madison County's Problems.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

WITH the Post-Dispatch's efforts to end dog racing and clean up Madison County vice condition, no forward-looking East Side citizen can disagree. But in bringing to book the evil ones, is it necessary or fair that the entire county should fall under the stigma and be labeled once and for all as the bad lands of the St. Louis area? Bearing in mind St. Louis newspaper descriptions, a citizen of Madison County, in admitting his residence, has the choice of being classified as a gangster, a tout or a county official with a car a block long.

Madison County's troubles in the main are suburban, the backwash of city life. The blue steel aristocracy and the knights of the green cloth prefer outlying points, especially in another state. But even in St. Louis County the Colbeck gang nested for years and was finally brought to justice in Illinois.

While most of Madison County's vice is city-bred, there is no doubt home comforts have been supplied. This, I think, is due to three reasons: (1) The disorganized condition of the county. The western half is industrial, the eastern half agricultural, and between the towns there is a lack of unity and understanding. (2) The primary system whereby the machine gets enough candidates on the ticket to put its men over and everyone is a reformer until the morning after the election. (3) An anemic press which does not publish the news.

Gambling is not a major industry in Madison County, which is the third largest in population and wealth in Illinois and which, therefore, had a few assets even before the post-prohibition plutocrats blew in with their seductive easy money ideas. Like many another American community, it is in a hard fight with the often invisible sources of corruption. If the Post-Dispatch will continue to help (not sneer), all is not lost. C. K. B.

Mr. Coolidge's Party Loyalty.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

MR. COOLIDGE'S reason for backing the present administration — "my party"—is certainly at variance with the principles which made our country what it is. I gather from talking with other Republicans that they will not support the party at the next election unless a very strong man of the Theodore Roosevelt, Wilson or Cleveland type were to lead it. T. F. PETRE.

Why Have Saloons?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

IF saloons are the drawback to the manufacture of beer, why have saloons? Is there any reason on earth why beer cannot be delivered from door to door the same as milk is delivered? If a man wants canned beer or case beer, why cannot it all be handled as the dairies handle their products? House-to-house delivery would employ more men than the saloons would. We would not have the saloon nuisance that drew men away from home. One case of beer ought to be enough for one family a week.

If a man does not pay his bills, his grocer, butcher or merchant has the privilege of notifying the breweries by telephone and the breweries can refuse him liquor until his debts are paid up. Any man caught selling liquor who is not a brewer could be arrested and fined or jailed if his offense is flagrant.

As one old lady said, a man cannot live on grass in summer or snowballs in winter. Somebody has to do something. And how I would like to see Mr. Busch's glorious horses on the city streets again. HOUSEWIFE.

A Three-Fly Plan.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

HERE is my remedy for the depression: Restore silver as money by international agreement, thereby doubling the amount of money in the world and increasing the purchasing power of three-fifths of the world's population using silver as the unit of value; revise the tariff downward and open up trade with all nations on a fair and equitable basis; modify the prohibition law, putting the bootlegger out of business.

Crocker, Mo. J. L. HOOPS.

A Victor in Defeat.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

For when the one Great Scorer comes
To write against your name,
He writes not that you won or lost,
But how you played the game.

Sir Thomas was a victor in defeat.

For An All-Star Charity Series.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

FOR years we have heard of all-star teams selected by Babe Ruth and others, presumably to represent the best there is in baseball. But so far these teams have existed only on paper. The fandom of the country has never been granted the treat to see all-star teams in action.

I suggest that a committee of competent sports writers select the best players in each league and have these two teams play a post-season series of 11 games in the 11 cities represented in major league baseball, the receipts to be turned over to charity. J. E.

TAXES AND THE FEDERAL DEFICIT.

The receipts of the Federal Government for the first quarter of the new fiscal year, just ended, were $588,000,000, as compared with $832,000,000 for the same period last year, a decline of $244,000,000. The great bulk of this loss is attributable to a decline of $241,000,000 in collections from the Federal income tax during the past three months. At the same time, expenditures, as a result of Federal construction work and the activities of the Farm Board, were boosted to $969,000,000, a figure nearly $200,000,000 larger than the one recorded a year ago. As a consequence, the Treasury completed the quarter with an additional deficit of nearly $400,000,000. At this rate, it is likely that the end of the present fiscal year will leave us with a deficit of a billion and a half, which, added to last year's billion-dollar deficit, will put the National Government in the red to the extent of $2,500,000,000 by June 30, 1932.

In the face of this disquieting situation comes the report from Washington that the administration will oppose increases in taxation at the coming session of Congress, relying upon stringent economy in an effort to balance the budget. But it is inconceivable that reductions in expenditures, desirable as they may be, can be carried far enough to make ends meet. Even though departmental appropriations may be slashed heroically, the resulting savings will be but a drop in the bucket of the deficit. It is understandable that the administration should hesitate to enter the coming national campaign with substantial increases in taxation charged against it. But the urgency of the situation demands that considerations of political expediency give way to those of sound finance.

We can avoid increased taxation only if we are willing to add billions of dollars to the total of our national debt. It is altogether likely that our situation will be even more serious next year than this. And this is true even though business activity may pick up in the meantime. For taxes collected in 1932 will be based on the low incomes of 1931, and, if levied at existing rates, will return a low yield.

Our income will be further reduced by the moratorium on inter-governmental debts, which it seems probable we shall find it necessary to extend beyond the one year already contemplated. At the same time, essential Federal services must be maintained, bonus advances made, interest paid on increased indebtedness and our financial soundness so preserved that we may be able to cope with the unforeseen emergencies of the future. There is no good reason why a stable government should borrow large sums of money for the purpose of meeting its ordinary expenditures in times of peace.

The real issue, then, is not between borrowing and taxing. Taxes must be increased. The only question is, who will pay them? That is the question which the new Congress will face when it convenes in December. Various proposals will be made which will have as their purpose the imposition of the increased burden upon the middle and lower classes, upon those who are economically least able to bear it. The Treasury has already hinted at a reduction in income tax exemptions; various officials have argued for the elimination of the tax on capital gains; and Senator Reed has declared himself for the enactment of a Federal tax on retail sales. To the alternative of de-Mellonizing our Federal tax system by increasing surtax rates on large incomes and the rates on large estates which pass at death, there will be the bitterest sort of opposition.

President Hoover has already announced, in his speech before the American Legion at Detroit, that "the rich can be taxed to the point of diminishing returns and still the deficit would not be covered." The average man must be on the alert this winter if he does not wish to find saddled upon him an unfairly large share of the cost of maintaining Federal activities during the depression.

THEN COME PERFECT DAYS.

It was Lowell who placed the perfect days in June, and as a poet he should have known better. But granting that he was right for his native New England, that early summer under the elms of Cambridge is lovelier than the Berkshires' autumn gold, the red maple court attending old Monadnock and the gayly blowing yellow dress with which October adorns Cape Cod—granting all that, the poet's choice will not do for the Mississippi Valley. Our June may be a month of leaves and roses, of pleasant scents and soft blue skies, and it may fall short of that ideal. Our October never fails a much harder test. For it is a truth beyond chance of contradiction that the crowning glory of our year is the pageant of the hills whose coming already stands announced in ringing voices by heralds here and there. Sunrise mist across the marsh and sunset haze up and down the river join scarlet leaves on fence post vines in reminding us that summer is making its last stand. Sometimes early, sometimes later, as it promises to be this year, the carnival of color always pitches its gypsy tents on the hillsides for a generous but nevertheless all too short encampment. Today a clump of saplings is bronzing in the valley; within a fortnight, perhaps, frost will have wrought its truly wondrous miracle. June may be the month of months in New England, but from old man river's willow green sandbars to the flaming hill crests of the back country it is October. Then come perfect days.

A PRISON HONOR SYSTEM TESTED.

The Delaware State prison at Wilmington has long been praised by penologists as a model, where the honor system has been carried to full development. When the Wickersham Commission reported on American prisons and declared against ruthless methods, commentators offered the Delaware plan as an example of what could be done. Six unarmed guards, with never more than three on duty at a time, supervised 600 prisoners. There had been no outbreaks there, and the prison had a record of 85 per cent reform over a nine-year period.

Last month, however, prisoners blew the lock from a door and shot a guard, resulting in the escape of 13 men. It may have seemed that Delaware's good record was spoiled, and that considerate treatment of prisoners had failed. But Delaware will not abandon her plan. Most of the prisoners were recaptured within a few days, and the others, 97 per cent of the inmates, took no part in the disturbance. The guard will be strengthened and other changes made, but the honor system will not be given up. In any community of 600 there will be some anti-social characters whose warped motives do not respond to reason. In a prison, such men are an obstacle to the honor system, but not an insuperable one. Delaware now realizes the need of special precautions with such prisoners, but there is no need to discontinue the methods that have been so successful with the great majority of the State's charges for almost a decade. These methods would revolutionize the country's prison system if brought into general use.

SOUNDING BRASS.

Silas H. Strawn, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, in addressing the Pan-American Commercial Conference in Washington yesterday, advised the South and Central American republics to adopt a flexible system of tariff similar to ours. This counsel was tendered on the assumption, presumably, that his audience was not familiar with the record of our so-called tariff flexibility. But if not possessed of this information, those "other Americans," as someone has fraternally called them, can easily get it. It is not exactly a blank page, but there is not an item of commercial consequence among the entries.

Under Mr. Coolidge, the Tariff Commission was reduced to a partisan political board whose one recommendation of moment, a reduction in the sugar rate, died in a pigeon hole of the executive's desk. The greater regulatory powers vested in the President by the present tariff act have not as yet been exercised to any purpose. The Hawley-Smoot abominations which Mr. Hoover's expanded flexibility provision was to correct are all in full bloom.

Flexibility is a contrivance for which an excellent sales talk can be made, when a tariff bill is before Congress, and Mr. Hoover was at his promotional best in the prospectus he prepared for the improved device during the pendency of the Hawley-Smoot bill. But the device, so far as our experience goes, does not work. If Mr. Strawn were required to cite one instance where an objectionable rate had been corrected by the adjustability attachment to our tariff system, he simply could not do it. When he describes it, as he did, as "the most beneficial feature of our tariff policy," he is employing the superlative of the stump speech.

A stump speech, under the license of campaign oratory, may be permissible, but the rostrum of an international conference striving to disentangle the commercial problems of a troubled world is not the place, we submit, for sounding brass.

THE WORD FROM WISCONSIN.

Mr. Hoover has raised another political blister on the finger of his pitching hand. It happened in the First Wisconsin District. The administration candidate for the nomination for Congress was defeated by the anti-Hoover, Progressive Republican, Thomas R. Amlie. This district, long represented by the late Henry Allen Cooper, is normally a conservative stronghold, but normalcy isn't hitting the ball much this season; in fact, it is in a protracted batting slump. Moreover, Mr. Amlie is for modification of the Volstead act, which leaves the camel mingling its tears with the elephant's. It may be observed, also, that there have been two contests since Mr. Coolidge blew his blast for party regularity in a weekly magazine—the election in the Seventh Missouri and the First Wisconsin primary. It looks as if a more persuasive saxophone than Calvin's will have to do the crooning.

OKLAHOMA CITY'S "SOLUTION."

Oklahoma City used its police force to "solve" the unemployment problem, but the problem would not stay solved. Karl Pretshold tells about it in the current Nation. It seems that many jobless men had taken refuge in the river bottoms, where they were fed last winter by the Veterans of Foreign Wars. A new Police Chief came into office and instituted a policy of arresting the unemployed as vagrants. This cruel policy invoked the wrath of Gov. Murray and of Walter Harrison, editor of the Oklahoma City Times. Murray said he would pardon any persons arrested for vagrancy. Carl Magee, editor of the Oklahoma News, and supposedly a liberal, denounced Murray and Harrison and defended the city administration his paper had helped to elect.

The fight was on, and the vagrancy campaign resulted in ludicrous injustice. For instance, a night watchman was arrested as a vagrant while on his way to work. He had money in his pocket and in the bank, but was nevertheless detained for 23 hours and fined, losing his job as a sequel. Finally, the Health Department descended upon the bottoms and evicted its inhabitants on the ground of "insanitary living conditions." The theory that clearing the river bank settlement would solve the unemployed problem was rudely shattered in a new census of the unemployed. During the first three days, 7500 men registered in a city of 185,000. Editor Harrison thinks there must be 10,000 to 12,000 out of work, which means that 25,000 persons need assistance.

Oklahoma City faces a grim reality that cannot be dispelled by night sticks of police or eviction orders of the Health Department. To use such cruel means of harassing jobless men only aggravates the situation. Nearly every city in the country has a similar problem, and it must be faced generously, humanely and manfully by those more fortunately situated.

THE SERIES AS OF NOW.

By their victory yesterday, the Athletics overtook the soaring Cardinals, and statistically the teams are all square, each having won and lost two games. But what about the psychology, or, as Bismarck phrased it, the imponderables? The advantage is in the camp of Commander Street who, operating in the non-commissioned stripes of the Old Sergeant during the long campaign, is hereby breveted General while destiny trembles in the thunders of Waterloo. The advantage is in the tent of Marshal Rue for many reasons. For instance, in the weighty prefaces of the series the Cardinals were accounted almost a forlorn hope, but that learned misapprehension has merrily fled. In the final test of combat there has been little to choose between the antagonists as regards technical skill, but the spirit of the Cardinals' performance has glowed with the flame of art beside which the mechanical precision of the Athletics has been palely uninspiring. And the legend of Grove! Here was an immortal who, while yet in the flesh, had pre-empted the most exalted rating in baseball's Valhalla—the greatest of the great, infallibly sure to win whenever he appeared in the pitcher's box. That myth is gone forever, aching in every bludgeoned bone. And now three games remain—one at Philadelphia, the other two at Sportsman's Park. Whatever the result today, the battling returns to St. Louis on Friday where, with the home fires burning, the Cardinals may be depended upon to enact whatever prodigies may be necessary.

Science is not concerned with increasing the material comforts, Mr. Einstein says. So now we know what relativity isn't.

THE DOG WATCH.

Press Comment on Reed's Candidacy

AGE AGAINST HIM.

From the Springfield (Mass.) Republican.

FORMER Senator Reed's age places in the correct perspective his presidential candidacy. It cannot prove to be more than a compliment paid to him by the Democrats of Missouri. The Democratic national convention, which dismissed Mr. Reed from serious consideration in 1924 and 1928, will find him too shopworn in 1932. The thought of Mr. Reed as President would be staggering were it necessary to entertain it seriously. As a possible obstacle to the nomination of Gov. Roosevelt on the first ballot, he arouses interest minus the least suggestion of excitement.

COUNTRY NEEDS HIM.

From the Missouri Democrat.

NAPOLEON called Ney "the bravest of the brave." The term fits Jim Reed, who knows no fear. Reed is no experiment. He has been weighed in the scale of service. He is true to the cause of the masses, never hesitating, never faltering. He has made the good fight. Next year's Democratic nomination is equivalent to election. It should go to Reed. The country needs him.

WILL CLARIFY SITUATION.

From the Philadelphia Record.

IF ROOSEVELT had Reed's courageous liberalism on the prohibition question, or if Reed had Roosevelt's reputation as an executive committed to defense of the people's rights, what a candidate either would be!

The Reed candidacy promises to clarify the situation for the Democrats—not by leading to a nomination for the Missourian, but by forcing the New Yorker to take the last step as a liberal and declare for emancipation from the Volstead tyranny and freedom of the states to formulate their own policies in behalf of sane and effective opposition to exploitation of the public by beer barons and bootleggers. The Reed candidacy will act as a precipitant.

WESTERN MAN NEEDED.

From the Johnson County (Kan.) Democrat.

A WESTERN President, one who cast his lot and lived in the agricultural heart of America, is the man now demanded by the times. There can be no prosperity, no progress, until wheat, the life blood of business, and agricultural products in general get back to where they belong in the commerce of the world. James A. Reed is the champion to lead agriculture, once more, back to its high plane, to turn his power to get back again to sane taxation.

LOGICAL CANDIDATE.

From the Kahoka (Mo.) Gazette-Herald.

REED stands out as the logical candidate "of, for and by the people," to oppose President Hoover next year.

From the Arkansas Democrat.

REED left a vacancy which has not been filled, but as the possible standard bearer of the Democrats he is an "impossibility." He is but a month short of being 70 years old. He is an uncompromising isolationist in a world which is becoming more international with every tick of the clock. There is a third objection. We have not forgotten that incident at Houston when Reed, a relentless fighter against prohibition, suddenly tried to compromise with the dry forces in the hope of winning their support. We have always doubted that Reed personally was responsible for that move. Rather have we believed that his backers were guilty. But whoever was responsible, they placed Reed in the unenviable position of being a trader, which means, of course, that neither drys nor wets would trust him.

YEARS NO OBSTACLE.

From the Moberly (Mo.) Home Press.

WHERE is there the man in American politics today of the sterling honesty and ability of our former Senator? Reed is from the West. Reed knows his people's needs and is not afraid to be right. It is true he is three-score and 10, but he has a wonderful constitution. Like Hindenburg and Judge Holmes, he'll be here past his four-score, and then some. Let Missouri Democrats as one man honor him.

A SENSATIONAL LEADER.

From the Boston Evening Transcript.

IT IS not so much in relation to the nomination as to the presidency that Reed's candidacy will excite interest. His supporters believe that should he be nominated and elected, the country would have the first President since Woodrow Wilson who, to quote one of his admirers, "would have the nerve to tell Congress where it gets off." Washington would see a more sensational, if not an abler, leadership with Reed in the White House than with any of his rivals in either party. For years he has been the bitterest opponent Mr. Hoover has ever faced. It goes without saying that should he win the nomination, the country would be treated to a bitter and exciting campaign perhaps without parallel in many years.

MAN OF THE HOUR.

From the Vandalia (Mo.) Leader.

THERE never was a time in the history of the republic that a man of Reed's caliber was needed more than at the present time.

BARRED BY WILSON ENMITY.

From the Illinois State Register.

FORMER Senator Reed is a genius, but he will never be the Democratic nominee because he can never live down his bitter controversies with the late President Wilson. Reed will serve a worthy purpose, however, if he puts his logic and eloquence into the approaching campaign. He will be a vital factor in arousing public sentiment in favor of liberalizing some of our laws. Our sister State has made many contributions to enlightened opinion in America, not the least of which is "Jim" Reed.

DESERVES STATE'S SUPPORT.

From the St. Joseph (Mo.) Observer.

FORMER Senator Reed should have the solid backing of the Missouri delegation. All minor loyalties should yield to the major loyalty we owe as Missourians to the State's greatest son.

ESPOUSES OBSOLETE PROGRAM.

From the Houston Post-Dispatch.

IT IS conceivable that a deadlock might result between major candidates, which would give Reed a break. However, his chances of winning the nomination do not seem bright. One obstacle in the way of his success is his age. Still another is his record of advocacy of a policy of national isolation. The Wilson ideals have been vindicated and embraced by the administration. The Reed program of isolation is obsolete, because it has been found impracticable, even impossible.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.

EVER since Robert H. Lucas, executive director of the Republican National Committee, was caught and exposed in an undercover attempt to defeat Senator Norris of Nebraska by circulating anonymous literature against him, Mr. Lucas has been known to the Washington political writers as "Tanglefoot Bob." The aptness of this sobriquet was further demonstrated by Mr. Lucas last Saturday night. In the course of a nation-wide radio speech eulogizing President Hoover's efforts to promote international peace, Lucas mentioned the American visit of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain, and the impending visit of Premier Laval of France. In the prepared copies of his speech distributed in advance, Lucas continued:

"Following the visit of the great French statesman, it is expected that Mr. Julius Grotius, Prime Minister of Germany, will be a guest of the President."

OBVIOUSLY there was something wrong with this picture. In the first place, the office of Prime Minister does not exist in Germany. The head of the Cabinet is Chancellor Bruening. In the second place, no member of the German Cabinet is named Grotius. Clearly, Mr. Lucas could not have been thinking of Dr. Hugo Grotius, the father of international law, because he died in 1645. For that reason, perhaps, Mr. Lucas omitted the name in delivering the speech and contented himself with the announcement that the "Prime Minister of Germany" was coming.

Enterprising members of the press eventually were able to ascertain that the personage Lucas really had in mind was Dr. Julius Curtius, who has just resigned as German Foreign Minister. Unfortunately again, however, further inquiry disclosed that the man whom the administration really desired as a guest is not Dr. Curtius, but Chancellor Bruening. To make the comedy complete, Chancellor Bruening announced that he is not coming.

RECAPITULATING, we find that the only errors in Mr. Lucas' announcement and the subsequent attempts to explain it were the following: There is no "German Prime Minister;" there is no "Mr. Julius Grotius" in the German Government; ex-Foreign Minister Curtius was not invited to visit Washington and Chancellor Bruening is not coming. This is a pretty good record for "Tanglefoot Bob," and we do not wonder that the managing editor of the Washington Star, in introducing him over the radio, described him as "the guiding genius of the Republican party." The party has been acting as if it were under the guidance of that sort of genius.

LOUIS LEMP, 61, DIES AT HOME IN NEW YORK

Mr. Lemp, who removed from St. Louis to New York in 1906, had lived abroad much of the time in recent years. His widow and daughter, Miss Louise Lemp, are now in Paris.

The cause of death was not stated in the telegram. Edwin Lemp said his brother had been ill for two weeks, but was not thought to be in a serious condition. A sister, Mrs. Gustav Pabst of New York and Milwaukee, took charge of the body. The place of burial has not been decided upon.

Mr. Lemp was a son of William J. Lemp, founder of the brewery, who died in 1904. After the father's death, the four sons took charge of the property, and conducted it until prohibition stopped beer-making. The Lemp plant on South Broadway, the second largest brewery in St. Louis, was turned over in part to various industrial uses.

While still a resident of St. Louis, Mr. Lemp was an active and successful horseman, owning several horses which were winners of Horse Show prizes, and thoroughbred racers which ran at Fairground, Delmar, Kinloch and Union tracks, and at tracks outside St. Louis. Elastic, a famous sprinter, was probably the best known of his racing string. May Queen, high school mare owned by Mr. Lemp, was shown by him in the Horse Show in the old Coliseum, Fourteenth and Locust streets, and in shows throughout the country.

Mr. Lemp is survived by his widow and daughter, two brothers, Edwin and Charles A. Lemp of St. Louis, and two sisters, Mrs. Pabst and Mrs. Alexander Konta of New York. A brother, William J. Lemp Jr., died in 1922.

Display of Library Posters.

A collection of 130 posters made by members of the staff of the St. Louis Public Library is on display this month in Delivery Hall at the Library. They were designed to call attention to special groups of books or to advertise some library activity. Dr. A. E. Bostwick, librarian, has offered $25 in prizes for the four posters selected by members of the staff as best.

A change has been made in the date of the debut of Miss Virginia Cave, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes E. Cave, 25 Washington terrace. The tea at which she will be introduced will be given at their home by Mrs. Cave Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 11, instead of Tuesday, Nov. 10, to avoid a conflict of dates.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlson are former residents of Santa Monica, but have returned to make their home in St. Louis. Mrs. Carlson was Miss Ethel Shumate, daughter of Mrs. W. C. Shumate, with whom they reside. Mrs. Shumate recently returned after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Lee of Hotel Chase at their summer home on Georgian Bay, Canada. YOU insist on fresh butter and fresh cream because you know they are perishable foods. Now scientists tell us that coffee is also a perishable food, and must be truly fresh to be good.

All coffee contains a delicate oil ... In freshly roasted coffee this oil carries the flavor and aroma you love.

But it is this same oil which also puts coffee in the fresh food class ... For in a comparatively short time after roasting it begins to turn rancid, just as butter does. It spoils, and becomes seriously toxic. It also affects the flavor and aroma of the coffee.

It is this delicate oil in coffee which, when fresh, carries the marvelous flavor and aroma you love. Stale, it turns rancid, becomes toxic ... frequently causes indigestion, headaches, sleeplessness.

COTTON MARKET CLOSES 8 TO 11 POINTS LOWER

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—An opening advance in cotton today on covering and trade buying stimulated by a constructive view of the overnight news from Washington, was followed by reactions under a renewal of Southern selling and liquidation or reselling by recent buyers. December contracts after selling up to 6.04c at the start, declined to 5.72c and the mid-afternoon market showed net declines of about 5 to 10 points.

Futures closed barely steady, 8 to 11 points lower. October, 5.59c; December, 5.71c; January, 5.82c; March, 6.01@6.02c; May, 6.20c; July, 6.37@6.38c. Spot quiet; middling, 5.75c.

Cotton opened very steady today at an advance of 20 to 28 points on active covering and trade buying.

There was little evidence of Southern selling and the market reacted a few points after the call.

December contracts sold up to 6.04c and March 6.35c, and offerings, which had been relatively light at the start, increased with considerable Southern selling as well as realizing by yesterday's buying. This was sufficient to cause reactions as soon as the initial demand had been supplied, with December selling off to 5.89c and with general list ruling about 7 to 9 points net higher before the session had gone far.

Liverpool cables reported foreign buying and covering in that market and said there was a good business in cotton cloth and yarn for China with more machinery running. Egyptian cotton futures in Alexandria were 12 to 35 points higher and the Indian spot quotations in Liverpool showed a net advance of 10 points.

The market sagged off later in the morning. The immediate sentimental effect of the Washington news appeared to have been fully reflected by the opening demand and prices eased under a moderate volume of southern selling combined with some realizing or liquidation by recent buyers. By midday December had reacted to 5.77 and March to 6.06, or 3 to 5 points net lower.

Brunk's office in the Capitol on Jan. 26 as the first installment of a $2000 payment Brunk testified Britain had solicited, "to handle" the committee.

Threw Money on Floor.

Britain said he went to Brunk's office on Jan. 26, in response to a request by Brunk, and spent a few minutes talking with him. He said Brunk questioned him as to how he was faring in the investigation. Britain said he told Brunk he did not know as the inquiry had not been under way long. He said Brunk seemed resentful at not obtaining more information and that he left.

Britain said that as he left Brunk's office some man in the corridor handed him a small package, saying, "This is for you." Britain said he put the package in his inner coat pocket, without examining it, and walked on. He said he put it in his pocket without thinking. A moment later, Britain said, he was arrested and then three or four other men appeared, and the officer who arrested him told him to keep his hands out of his pockets. He said it occurred to him that they were "trying to frame me for something and I then remembered the package." He said he then pulled the package from his inner pocket and threw it to the floor. This package was a roll of bills.

Explains Conflicting Stories.

Britain's story was not shaken on cross-examination by Prosecuting Attorney Sevier. He said he could not give a description of the man he said handed him the package. State witnesses had testified that Britain told conflicting versions after his arrest, as to how the roll of bills got into his pocket. Britain said he was bewildered by his arrest and that he might have said anything to reporters who questioned him.

Brunk was recalled after defense witnesses had testified that Britain was in his home in Republic, and not in Jefferson City, on Friday, Jan. 23, which Brunk had said was one of the days on which Britain had discussed the committee and alleged payment with Brunk. Britain said he left Jefferson City the afternoon of Jan. 22.

The Treasurer said he was mistaken in stating that he had talked with Britain on Jan. 23, and that the particular conference had been the afternoon of Jan. 22. Brunk previously had stated this conference was brief because Britain was checking out from his hotel to go home. The hotel records showed Britain checked out the afternoon of Jan. 22.

Impugns Brunk's Motives.

In cross-examination of Brunk yesterday, Sam M. Wear of Springfield, chief counsel for Britain, asked Brunk if he had not made a statement on the occasion of a recent visit to the office here of Representative James T. Blair Jr. of Cole County, Democratic majority floor leader in the House, that he would "get" every member of the investigating committee by "fair means or foul."

Brunk denied this, saying the only purpose of his visit to Blair's office was to question Blair "about placing his wife on the House clerical payroll under an assumed name."

Brunk has been investigating the House clerical payrolls and recently announced that Blair had indorsed House clerical payroll warrants which were made out in the maiden name of Blair's wife.

Holds Most of House in Contempt.

The Treasurer asserted on cross-examination that he had believed the alleged statement of Britain that a majority of the investigating committee could be "handled" for a payment. He said he thought three other members, whom he named, could be bribed.

"You had contempt for the whole committee?" Wear asked. "Yes, I did," Brunk replied. "In fact I have contempt for most of the House of Representatives."

Blair was called late yesterday afternoon by the defense. He testified that Brunk visited his office about two weeks ago and in the course of a conversation said he would get even with "those birds if it was the last thing he ever did."

Blair said he asked how it would be done and Brunk replied, "Never mind how, I'll do it by fair means or foul."

STOCK RALLY ON HOOVER'S PLAN MEETS NEW SELLING

Market Settles Back Into Slow Decline After Upturn of 1 to 7 Points — Profit-Taking and Liquidation on Previous Day's Big Rise.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Stocks reacted but moderately today from the levels attained in yesterday's wild upswing, while bonds, particularly the domestic issues, pushed ahead strongly. In prominent banking quarters the reaction of the financial markets to the Hoover proposals was described as highly gratifying. Stocks lost about 1 to 5 points of yesterday's gains of 2 to 15. Trading was quieter, the turnover approximating three million shares.

Trading in the stock market was in large volume at the start, and temporary gains of 1 to 7 points were recorded, but these were canceled by early afternoon, as trading slackened, as traders took profits on yesterday's rise. The commodity markets also reacted moderately. The London market turned irregular, as the pound sterling declined, but the Paris Bourse closed with substantial gains.

The steel shares were under pressure from the start, and U. S. Steel got down more than 3 points. Bethlehem lost about as much. American Telephone, after declining 4, rallied moderately. Eastman lost more than 5, and issues off 2 to 4 included du Pont, Case, Allied Chemical, Southern Pacific, and New York Central. American Can closed about steady. A few prominent shares closed higher. Net gains of 1 to 2 points were recorded by Borden, National Dairy, Sears Roebuck and National Biscuit.

In foreign exchanges, sterling dropped 7½ cents to $3.86½, but other leading Europeans were mostly higher, as was the Canadian dollar, which rallied ¾ of a cent to 89½ cents. Latin American currencies were steady to firm.

Trade Statistics of Week.

The midweek business statistics again attested the low state of trade. The "Iron Age" weekly review of the steel trade said that ingot production had slipped back from 31 to 29 per cent of capacity, but it expected that the belated start of new model making by the automobile companies would provide considerable new business within a few weeks. The freight car loadings report for the week ended Sept. 26 showed a decline of about 4600 cars from the previous week. A small gain is normal for the period.

Nevertheless, bankers pointed out that aggressive and practicable measures to relieve points of stress in the economic structure should go far toward facilitating recovery, and that they give every indication of breaking the continuity of the seemingly endless liquidation which had been carried on for some time largely by its own momentum.

Viewed as Constructive.

Brokers were inclined to view the quieting down of the stock market as more encouraging than otherwise, pointing out that after yesterday's upturn, which in percentage gain was the widest in recent Stock Exchange history, the market needed a breathing spell, and time to consolidate its position.

While official comment from heads of the leading banks was not immediately available, it was said unofficially in leading banking quarters that President Hoover's program was regarded as highly constructive, and that it would assuredly receive the hearty co-operation of Wall street.

Heads of several of the leading banks were busily engaged in conferences today, and it was understood that plans to co-operate in the immediate establishment of the proposed $500,000,000 credit corporation were under consideration.

It was widely predicted that the formation of the $500,000,000 credit corporation would have a distinctly salutary effect upon the bond market. It is to the bond market that many observers look for conclusive signs of a turn in the trend.

Wall street was also encouraged by President Hoover's reference to the forthcoming conference with Premier Laval of France. Several prominent bankers believe that permanent betterment can only be accomplished through co-operavtie efforts by France and the United States to improve the world's monetary situation.

FOREIGN MARKETS AT A GLANCE

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Better New York advices, steadier sterling and the removal of political uncertainty strengthened stocks in the forenoon. Hesitation developed later due to the reaction in sterling to $3.89½. While Transatlantic shares continued to receive support, the early improvement in gilt issues disappeared. Closed irregular.

PARIS, Oct. 7.—General gains, amounting to 10 per cent in some instances, were registered on the Bourse following the upward tendency in New York yesterday. The close was firm.

BERLIN, Oct. 7.—Boerse closed.

Argentine Grain Acreage.

...ENOS AIRES, Oct. 7.—The Government estimated the 1931-1932 Argentine wheat acreage today at 17,235,000 acres, is 3,674,000,000 under the five-year average, but 145,000 acres greater than the previous estimate. The new estimate was regarded as in part a belated rush to plant wheat on account of reports of poor crops in Germany, France and sections of Canada.

WHEAT AND CORN PRICES DECLINE IN LOCAL TRADE

ST. LOUIS MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE, Oct. 7.—Wheat futures closed down ⅞ to 1c and corn ¼ to ⅝c off. Recessions in securities after opening rise exerted influence on grain prices. Chicago reported yesterday's buyers among sellers today. It was said Liverpool was not up as much as some expected.

MATERIAL DOWNTURNS TO GRAIN AT CHICAGO

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Material downturns in wheat and corn late today resulted from ... aggressive buying and from reverses in the stock market. Houses that were conspicuous yesterday as buyers of wheat were among sellers today. Further reports of rain in domestic winter wheat areas of the Southwest failed to act as an offset, although much seeding remained to be done in parts of Kansas and Oklahoma. Wheat closed unsettled, ⅝@⅞ cents lower, corn a shade to 1¼ down, oats ⅛ to ¼ off, and provisions varying from 10 cents decline to an equal gain.

Wheat today showed an early upward tendency, influenced by results of last night's White House conference. Profit taking sales on bulges, however, checked the advance and notice was taken that Liverpool wheat quotations were up less than expected. Opening unchanged to ⅝ cents higher, the Chicago wheat market afterward held near the initial limits, then sagged to a shade decline to ⅝ and subsequently continued firm. For at least the time being, most wheat traders appeared content to regard yesterday's advance of 2½ cents a bushel as having largely discounted beforehand the immediate effect of the new measures agreed upon at the White House to aid the business situation. Setbacks from early fresh advances were largely confined to fractions of a cent much of the time, with the market steadying at but little below yesterday's top level.

Continued slowness of export demand for North American wheat, however, acted somewhat of a drag on values. A further handicap to wheat bulls was news of a slight increase of Argentine acreage as compared with preliminary estimates. One explanation of laggard action of the Liverpool wheat market today was that receipts in Great Britain were too large to justify much advance. On the other hand, primary domestic receipts of wheat today showed a decided falling off both as against last week and a year ago.

Corn and oats swayed with wheat. Provisions responded to upturns in hog values.

Argentine Grain Acreage.

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 7.—The Government estimated the 1931-1932 Argentina wheat acreage today at 17,235,000,000, which is 2,074,000,000 under the five-year average, but 185,000 acres greater than the 1930 estimate.

The new estimate was regarded as indicating a belated rush to plant wheat on account of reports of poor crops in Germany, France and sections of Canada.

GENERAL ADVANCE IN THE BOND MARKET

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The bond market, which was expected to benefit materially from the Hoover plan for the stabilization of domestic banking conditions, advanced today and maintained its gains in contrast to the reaction in stocks.

Net gains in all groups of domestic corporate issues were generous but the trend among foreign obligations was irregular.

Strength appeared first among railroad loans but it soon spread to the public utility and industrial issues. The two former groups were more active than the industrials, however.

The breadth of the advance may be realized from the fact that such diversified bonds as Illinois Central 4¾s of 1966, New York Central 5s of 2013, Pennsylvania series D 4½s, Southern Pacific 4½s of 1968, Utilities Power & Light debenture 5½s, International Telephone debenture 5s, Detroit Edison 4½s, Cincinnati Gas & Electric series A 4s, American Telephone 5s of 1960, Youngstown Sheet & Tube 5s of 1978, Standard Oil 4½s, Chile Copper 5s and Goodyear 5s gained from 1 to 4 points.

This roster is by no means a complete list of the bonds scoring the larger gains. A host of the less active issues closed fractionally higher.

New York Sugar.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Raw sugar was unchanged early today at 3.44 for spots with no sales reported.

Futures opened unchanged and showed practically no change throughout the forenoon session with the general list of prices at midday one point net higher on March and unchanged on all other positions. Trading was light with some covering and commission house buying, encouraged by the early steadiness of the stock market, while houses with Cuban connections were the sellers, principally in the far off positions.

In refined local refiners announced an advance from 4.50 to 4.60 for fine granulated, effective at the opening tomorrow. The announcement led to a little better inquiry and some buyers were said to be placing orders a little further ahead.

Futures closed easy, 1 to 4 points lower; approximated sales 8300 tons; Oct. 1.35c, Dec. 1.37c, Jan. 1.34c, March 1.35c, May 1.37c, July 1.41c, Sept. 1.45c.

MASQUERADE

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN.

FANCHON stopped at the bank and drew out enough money from her current account to make up the sum which Tony had given her. Little had been spent of it save for the airplane passage . . . a small sum to the people who had cared for her—since then much augmented by her check, sent at Mrs. Carstairs suggestions—and the sum she had left with the doctor to take care of—Evelyn.

She had the car leave her at a shop. She waited till the man had driven away, she then entered the shop, came out and took a taxi and went to the Brooklyn address. There she dismissed the taxi and stood a moment before the quiet, rather shabby-looking brownstone house which advertised rooms to rent.

The neighborhood had once been very good, the street was in a backwater, a small, blind street. It was run down now, the very trees, growing forlornly from the ashpits, had a neglected and pathetic appearance. Children played mildly enough, in the gutter. Women went by, market baskets on their arms. Some were slatternly, some were neat and self-respecting in appearance. Before one house a very fine, expensive car stood, a chauffeur waiting. As Fanchon hesitated an elderly woman, wrapped in an ancient mink coat, came down the steps of the house. Evidently she had always lived in the neighborhood and nothing would make her move away, not even the gradual degradation and decay.

Slowly Fanchon went up the brownstone steps. They crumbled a little. The handrail of stone was worn. Shabby, dusty Brussels lace curtains hung at the front windows.

She did not know what she would say. She could not know. Her mind was almost blank but of her courage she was certain. Tony—had loved her. Perhaps, still loved her. Possibly within his love for her he might find some core of understanding for her position, some excuse for what she had done. Yet on the other hand, that very understanding and that same love might constitute for her the greatest menace of all.

"Tony—"she said, on a small breath.

Looking at him, she remembered how much, how unthinkingly she had cared. Looking at him with the eyes which had looked upon Collin to love him, irrevocably and forever, she felt no stirring of the senses, simply a strange constriction of the heart, in pity for Tony, in pity and compassion for all that had been between them, in pity for the girl she had once been.

He said, evenly:

"You came. Good. We have much to talk about." He took her wrist and drew her gently but relentlessly into the house. "Come," he said, with a flash of his white teeth, "into this—parlor. We shall be undisturbed. Quite alone."

She followed him. The room was long, it was dark, there were velour overdrapes. On the papered, peeling walls were Victorian era prints, once very gay, now rather dismal looking . . . Stags at bay and curly headed golden haired children at prayer. The furniture was plush, a dusty red. There was a fine mantel. Candlesticks of wood and two conch shells reposed upon it. Beneath it was a gas log, not lighted.

In one corner, a whatnot, loaded with dusty china knicknacks; in the other a really lovely secretary . . . a bead curtain divided the room from another room. There was a small square piano, a scarf thrown over it. There were modern student lamps and one oil lamp, in red glass. There was a Rodgers group and a ladder backed chair and a Morris chair and two pieces of Mission furniture. It was a hodge podge of generations, all of them dusty. It had a strange odor, that room, dust, decay, disinfectant, cabbage boiling and genteel poverty . . . It was incredibly depressing.

THERE was no shock to her senses in his nearness. Her senses remembered dimly. But love, which had glowed through them was gone. That she experienced no revulsion was merely habit. Her senses might remember but her heart did not; nor yet her mind. She drew herself away, gently.

"Please, Tony," she said.

He placed a chair for her; sat down himself on an Empire sofa, battered, the upholstery threadbare. He stated gravely:

"You no longer care for me?"

He had explained nothing, as yet. But it was all easier than she had expected. She said, honestly, openly,

"No, Tony."

He spoke without accent. But his gesture was South European. A hand flung, palm up, a shrug of the broad shoulders under the well fitting coat.

"I see. I had expected it. When—when you found out....about me?"

"I began," she said, trying to be honest, "I began to stop caring then. It—it was a shock to me. You don't know....But....I have always appreciated all you did, all you tried to do. And....for a little while"—— She hesitated and stopped and was amazed to find tears in her eyes. He finished her sentence for her.

"For a little while—we were happy. I see. I would have told you—before. But I was afraid. You see," he smiled ruefully, rather charmingly, "you see, I was in love with you, Fanchon."

She started a little at the use of her name. She had not heard it for so long. Tony's keen black eyes narrowed. He went on smoothly.

"And I wanted to marry you. But I was afraid to tell you.... So I planned instead to make my pile, to turn my last trick, to marry you then and take you away somewhere and go straight in some place where we could live happily and no one would ever be the wiser, least of all you. But, I didn't turn the trick," he said.

"No."

SHE looked at him. His even pallor, that of olive skin, was perceptible. He had grown a little heavier. He looked a little gross. He was no longer clean shaven and wore a small mustache. Yet there was a certain lean hunger in his eyes. His eyes looked sleepless. She began to be afraid. She shook the fear from her.

"Tony, I have brought you your money—all of it," she said . . . and handed him the envelope.

He took it from her. He did not open it. He held it in his hand and regarded it. His face was expressionless. Presently he put it in an inside pocket.

"You do not need it?" he asked with a most extraordinary formal courtesy—extraordinary under the circumstances.

"Very well, then. I do. But it will not be enough. I must have more, much more besides. Not for myself alone. But for you also. So that we can both go away and start all over again . . . and you must help me."

She flushed. Her heart quickened its beat. She asked . . .

"But—how can I help you?"

He said, so serenely that she was deceived until the sense of his words reached her:

"As Mrs. Carstairs' niece — as Evelyn Howard . . . will it not be easy?"

"But I am not her niece! I am not Evelyn Howard! You know that as well as I!"

"Do not speak so loudly," he suggested. "I said we are alone. We are—for all practical purposes. But there are people—upstairs."

She said, low, shaken:

"Tony, what are you thinking? What do you wish me to do? Tell me how you found me?"

DAILY STORY FOR CHILDREN

By Mary Graham Bonner

The Two Ships

BACK they traveled to the dense forests and there they watched Balboa and his men chopping down huge trees.

They chopped and they chopped and they chopped.

"Is it going to be so very cold that they will need all this wood?" John asked.

"No, that is not the reason for all this chopping."

"Yes, it is for a good reason," the Little Black Clock said. "You will see now what they are going to do. for I will turn the time ahead a little way.

"It would take us too long if we stayed around and waited for all this chopping to be finished."

So the Clock turned the time ahead a little, and they saw Balboa and his men carrying the trees back over the mountain top and down the other side to the coast.

"They're going to build ships!" John exclaimed.

"That's it," said the Little Black Clock.

Many, many, many Indians were following Balboa's directions, and as the Little Black Clock turned the time ahead they beheld two ships all ready to set sail on the Pacific Ocean—or the Southern Ocean, as it was still called.

John watched the launching of the vessels and then Peggy asked

"Is he going to discover some other places?"

"Well," said the Little Black Clock, "his enemies are going to plot against him and they will bring him to his end."

"Oh," said Peggy, "I guess John had better not be a discoverer after all."

The Veiled Prophet's Early Visits to His City

A Former Queen of Love and Beauty Returns to the Scene of Her Triumph and Recalls the Origin of Many of the Pageant's Customs.

—By MARGUERITE MARTYN—

IN contrast to all the pomp and ceremony, splendor and fame attendant upon the selection and coronation of a Veiled Prophet queen nowadays is the utter negligence with which the Queen of Love and Beauty was treated at the first ball in 1878. The title was still undreamed of and the identity of the first woman singled out for distinction is lost insofar as printed records are available. So are the names of her successors for five years though in 1884 one was mentioned in the printed accounts as "a little lady in white satin flecked with lace and many beads." Not until 1885 was the partner chosen by the Prophet to lead the ball publicly identified. In this wise the morning paper of Oct. 7, 1885, disposed of the event:

MRS. VIRGINIA JOY WHITTAKER today.

"With some difficulty one of the floor committee succeeded in stopping the orchestra which had played that march for 20 minutes without interruption and seemed reluctant to let go. In accordance with custom the Mysterious Visitors then proceeded to cull from the vast bouquet of beauty before them the choicest flowers and positions were taken for the lancers. The Veiled Prophet bestowed upon Miss Virginia Joy the honor of opening the festivities with him."

After all these years the first woman credited by the press with that distinction recalls the shock she sustained when riding downtown on the cable car next morning she beheld her name, Virginia Joy, blazoned forth in a headline.

She became the wife of Dr. James T. Whittaker of Cincinnati and as his widow for many years has divided her time between this country and Europe. Now she has come to stay a week with her sister, Mrs. Alvin B. Goodbar, 3953 Westminster place, having timed her visit so as to revisit the scene of her first social triumph.

"I was still a school girl at the Episcopal Sisters of the Good Shepherd on Lafayette avenue when a beau of mine from Little Rock came on for a visit and invited me to go to the ball," she related. "I wore a simple little dotted swiss dress made with a round neck edged with valenciennes lace and a straight full skirt belted with white satin ribbon. Yes, it was in the days of the bustle, but very young girls did not wear them.

"There was no throne, as I remember, though there may have been a sort of dais where older women were seated. The Prophet, escorted by Mayor Francis, if I am not mistaken, trod the whole length of the room, paused before a group in which I was standing and my name was called out. I scrambled forth, completely taken by surprise, pleased and happy, but unaware that I was setting any important precedent.

"I have no idea to this day who the masked gentleman really was. I should have suspected it was my uncle, Jerome Hill, had he not been plainly visible, without a mask, on the floor.

"I must confess I remember but little about the ball," she continued, "the decorations or general scheme of things, except that there were many real flowers, many baskets of them swinging overhead and singing birds in cages. All I was interested in was having a good time, which chiefly was concerned with the young man from Little Rock. I recall my chagrin when my escort reminded me after the ball that he had had only one dance with me. He had given an elaborate dinner party for me, and a group of my friends in a private dining room at the Southern Hotel, from the balcony of which we had watched the parade before going to the ball. Then the next morning I saw my name in print. I shudder even now as I think of it. I felt honored, of course, but at the same time disgraced for life at being made so conspicuous."

SEVEN other partners in succeeding years were chosen unceremoniously from the floor, though it is suspected some of these were apprised beforehand and made preparations accordingly. In 1886 Lulu Scott danced with the Prophet; 1888, Louise Gaiennie; 1889, Florence Lucas; 1890, Katherine Hill; 1891, July Thomson; 1892, Ellen Sturges. In 1887 Mrs. Grover Cleveland was a guest of honor and the Prophet devoted himself exclusively to her. Then in 1894 the Prophet decided to share honors before all the world. Hester Laughlin was crowned and the coronation ceremony inaugurated.

With a list I had made from the account of the 1885 ball to refresh her memory, Mrs. Whittaker recalled many other girls who were debutantes with her. Indeed, the mention of each name started a long train of reminiscences between her and her sister. Mimi Flanagan, who became Mrs. McCord of St. Joseph; Lulu Prather, who became Mrs. Andrew Knapp, and Louise Whittemore, who married Harry Knapp; Ann Carter Wickham and Polly Branch who were their school mates. Ella Stanard, who was the daughter of the Governor; Lizzie Von Phul, who became Mrs. Jimmie Byrnes. Alby Donaldson, afterward McCarthy, Edith Behr, Marie Hopkins, Marie Newman, Josie Bakewell, "though we were more interested in her brother George," Lucile Wilkerson, Mary Mitchell, Sophie Papin, Katherine Lindsay, Mamie O'Keefe, Mattie Tower, Mary Lee Ridgeley, Mamie Duncan, Brie Churchill, Julia Sellner, Mamie Broadhead, Belle Roland, Constance Kohn, Minnie Gamble, Nettie January, Edith January, and the greatest belle of all, Lulu Scott.

All these names were included in a special article with personal and intimate comment on who was at that ball.

It the papers did not pay much attention to the forerunner of a long line of illustrious queens, did not even describe her costume, that does not mean they failed to convey the impression of the tremendous success of those early V. P. celebrations. Pages were devoted to description, the entire roster of 7143 names of those invited to the ball was printed with brief descriptions of women's costumes. One feature article described in facetious vein the various styles of bangs women wore and the beards worn by men in 1885.

Mrs. Senator Cockrell wore at that ball a magnificent white brocade with tablier handsomely embroidered in colors, with trimmings of duchesse lace and fringe and ornaments of gleaming diamonds. Miss Minerva Primm, a demoiselle of 15, wore white surah silk trimmed with Spanish lace, short enough to show her silk stockings and kid boots.

Mrs. Col. J. L. D. Morrison was there. Mrs. Senator McGrath, Mrs. Judge Dillon, Mrs. Capt. John Carroll, Mrs. Governor Stanard. It was the fashion for wives to assume the titles of their husbands, and titles abounded in those days.

The papers reported that 400 cars arrived at Union Station discharging 65,000 persons augmented by other thousands who came by steamboat intent upon seeing the parade. And described the crush on the streets when the line of march was only a mile and a half long. How 20 mounted policemen, riding 12 abreast with drawn swords brandishing tried heroically to cleave a passage for the floats. Each float was drawn by six horses. The illumination was by means of coal oil torches and marchers alongside shooting rockets and colored fire.

WHAT THE LADIES WORE TO THE VEILED PROPHET'S BALL COPIED BY Marguerite Martyn FROM A NEWSPAPER CHALKCUT OF OCTOBER 7, 1885.

Down Washington avenue the crowds were densest. Lawns of residences on the north side of the street east of Twelfth that had been so prettily decorated and reserved by private residents for the entertainment of their guests, were invaded and overrun by the mob. Business houses were festooned with Japanese lanterns and a calcium light on the Lindell Hotel shed such a bright white light as to give the impression the building was on fire. Store windows were rented for $5 and even $10 as reviewing stands. Trinity Church had a facing of humanity, clinging to delicate towers and stone work. A tunnel ventilator occupying the middle of the street at Eighth caused serious congestion. "Cries of women and children were heard and there was the awful suggestion of tragedy. Several times men in the crowd, after being forced back, took occasion to rap the horse of a passing policeman with a cane." The reporter who tried to ascertain whether anybody had been seriously hurt in the crush found "several ladies had fainted, more were completely exhausted and untold numbers of feet had been bruised."

A GRAND fireworks display in the square at the west end of "the bridge" was the goal of massed humanity and here the Prophet and his Krewe escaped and made their way to the Merchants' Exchange building on Third street, where the ball was held.

"At 10 o'clock," according to the contemporary report, "a surging crowd moved along the broad stairways and through the wide doors, filling the immense reading rooms and libraries which for the time had been converted into elegant dressing rooms. Nothing was lacking in these apartments that the most exigent belle could require; mirrored dressing cases with every toilet article conceivable to vanity; truly the Veiled Prophets were Princes—as well as cut flowers piled in baskets were scattered lavishly around; bouquets ready made for belle or beau of the rarest greenhouse blossoms; perfumes that might satisfy a sultana stood in cut-glass bottles and shed their fragrance from wide-mouthed jars of costly china, as though the Prophets were diviners likewise of women's most refined weaknesses."

Deft-fingered hand-maidens started up wherever they were wanted to doff wrappings of the fair guests, and drew on dainty "brodequins" (whatever they were), and fairy-like slippers.

In the ballroom, "for the nonce" grave and reverend seigniors had thrown away all care and every manly face beamed with gaiety. These doughty men were off 'change, yet still upon their "native heath" although many of them seemed mightily masquerading. Scarce to be recognized were many of them in regimental suits and military buttons. The glitter of gold and silver epaulettes, stars and straps on head, shoulders and breasts over which the blue or gray was tightly buttoned, gave a distinguished appearance to many familiar forms. The artillerymen in their suits of blue with gorgeous trappings of scarlet and gold, gave another bright touch to the courtly scene.

The central motif of the decorations, it seems was a fountain arched over with a pavilion of Turkish design covered with natural flowers and foliage. An organ "of which St. Louis is justly proud" was included in the scheme. Illumination was by means of gas jets, but there were also decorative strings of electric lights.

Guests passed the time before the arrival of the maskers dancing, and were with difficulty cleared from the floor at the entrance of the procession.

Maids and matrons who came merely to look on without joining in the dance were seated on a dais. "This contributed greatly to the diversity of the rich toilets, great numbers appearing in elegant carriage costumes and evening bonnets."

If you ask my OPINION

By Martha Carr

DEAR MRS. CARR: I am a high school senior, a star athlete and an "A" student. I have been told by girls that I am good-looking and I am popular with boys as well as girls. But I like to go with all the girls instead of going steady with one. Every time I have two or three dates with one girl and she sees me with another, the first one gets angry and will not speak to me or else pulls a sob-sister act. This has happened four or five times and I'm getting tired of it. I don't like to "break girls' hearts." I only want to have a good time. Of course I always "neck" them, but I don't try to be platonic. I am only 16, so they ought to know that my attentions are not serious.

Maybe you can tell me how to keep their friendship without "going steady."

DUKE.

Just what do you mean by friendship? You want to make love to lots of girls and indulge in the "necking," and you probably would consider them prudes and old-fashioned if they rebelled these playful little demonstrations, but you do not wish to be taken seriously. Nice of you, isn't it? You want the earth.

If you will keep your behavior on a sensible and honest friendly basis you probably would not be obliged to disentangle yourself or make the girls angry so often. It is true that they shouldn't take you seriously and literally. Girls should know by this time that the "going steady" generally leaves them "with the bag to hold." It is too bad, and I know there is much truth in the fact that modern girls grab at love and a "steady" without a great deal of encouragement. At the same time, you'd better be a little more platonic and straight if you do not want to bring trouble on yourself. Don't expect too much imagination.

DEAR MRS. CARR: I am 23 years old and not a single date—and I can hear people say: "why, she can't have them, of course." It worries them more than it does me. But an early experience turned me from men. If I think they are about ready to ask for a date, I want to turn my back. But of course, there is one now I think I might trust, but I pass him "cold" and don't want to speak. Yet I have my dreams like every other girl.

This man who likes me so much, drinks heavily. Can that be overcome?

HOPELESS.

Be sure this man overcomes the habit before marriage. It is not safe to trust to it afterwards.

* * *

DEAR MRS. CARR: I am living with an aunt and uncle; am working at a steady job and make my own way. They are my guardians, but since I am 19 years old, I think I should be allowed some privileges, including going out some with the boys. It creates ill feeling and we do not get along any more as we should. I am very unhappy and would like your opinion on the subject just as soon as you can publish it.

UNHAPPY M. L. L.

Certainly you should be allowed to go out some in the evenings with young people and to have some attention from the boys too. You are not a baby and of course you are resentful at these restrictions. Ask them to allow you to go the same as other girls, but promise to let them know where you go.

DEAR MRS. CARR: There is one thing I cannot understand about myself. At present I am working at a very nice position; at least other people think it is nice. Sometimes I think myself very ungrateful for not thinking so, too, especially since so many people are out of work. Long ago I knew there were two different things in me that fight for supremacy. The one I inherit from my mother, who is a very dear, practical woman, and the other from my dear father, who was an artist and had an artistic temperament. The practical side thinks I should stick to my present position the rest of my life, since I make what today is considered very good money. The other side wants me to break away and do something very much better. The question is, am I young enough to wait a few years before breaking away, or if one doesn't like the work they are doing, should you get away from it as fast as possible?

My one hobby is books. The thing I love best to do is to learn something new.

I do not like to go to parties, or in fact, any place where there is a crowd of people.

AN ARDENT READER.

It is a great temptation for persons who are versatile to scatter their efforts too much. Nice to have many interests, but necessary to concentrate. With your taste and temperament, I think nursing would be a mistake. I wish you might go to college, which would help you in your decision. But be sure what your line is before giving up the present job.

Letters intended for this column must be addressed to Martha Carr at the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Mrs. Carr will answer all questions of general interest but, of course, cannot give advice on matters of a purely legal or medical nature. Those who do not care to have their letters published may enclose an addressed and stamped envelope for a personal reply.

Three-Yard 'Kerchiefs Worn as Shawls

Sports handkerchiefs with wide squares of gaily striped linen are featured this season. The newest evening handkerchief is 26 inches square, fluttering gracefully from the hand, or worn as a delicate shawl around the shoulders. Some are of white chiffon finished with a full, ruffled edge of black lace. Others are handsomely monogramed, with a rolled hem.

Black and gold jewelry is being shown for wear with black dinner gowns and black satin or velvet slippers with gold sandal straps.

Varicose Veins

GRAVITY may be the force that keeps man from flying off the face of the earth into empty space, but it is also his ever present taskmaster, and his nemesis.

Should he chance to lose his balance even for the fraction of a second, gravity will bring him down to the dust, sometimes with disastrous results.

Every time man's heart beats, it strains against gravity in order to force blood to the head and neck and to draw blood from the lower parts of the body.

Gravity contributes to the dilatation of veins, or in other words to the formation of varicose veins.

Of course gravity is not the only factor, or else everyone would have varicose veins.

But still gravity is an important force, for one very seldom sees varicose veins on the arms, while on the legs they are very common.

The veins, as is well known, are the vessels that convey the blood back to the heart. Unlike the arteries they are thin and fairly soft-walled tubes.

The veins of the extremities are provided with valves which allow blood to flow only in the direction of the heart.

When for various reasons the pressure on the blood becomes greater than the veins can withstand, they give way and dilate.

This condition may result from interference with the back flow of the blood, arising from, say, tight garters, the abnormal pressure of organs or tumors on some of the larger veins inside the body or the suction action of the heart, and the breathing movement may become weakened.

When the veins become dilated and tortuous, there is a stasis or slowing up of the circulation of the blood in the affected part.

In the more serious forms of this condition, the surrounding tissues become water logged, and there is a tendency for the vein to become ulcerated.

MACDONALD WARNS OF REVOLUTION IF HE LOSES

HOPES FOR PACTS TO END WAR DEBT

Six Parties in Ballot Contests, and 1700 Candidates Seek Parliamentary Seats—Son of Lloyd George Resigns Office.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Prime Minister MacDonald asked the voters in a nation-wide broadcast last night to elect candidates who would stand by the National Government and to give him a mandate "which can be weakened by no faction of opposition, organized or disorganized."

He warned that failure to do so might, in the coming months of uncertainty, "involve this country and other nations as well in financial panics, social distress and perhaps even revolution. Your duty is plain—the nation first."

"I would that every party would join up and make the world behold a nation united in national defense," he said, "but if that is not to be, let the vast majority of the electors of all classes and parties see to it that the Government receives from their hands ample authority to complete the work which has been so well begun."

Would Remove War Debts.

In an election manifesto issued yesterday appealing for a free hand to deal with each new situation MacDonald declared national unity to be as essential now as it was in August, when his emergency government was formed.

In one of the striking passages of the manifesto he said that while but—delay international agreements should be set going to remove "some of the most fruitful causes of the economic misfortunes—war debts and reparations"—which the whole world now suffers so grievously."

Urging a monetary policy to establish sterling in "confidence and authority," he added that "in the background of this work, which studied at every point in connection with it, must be the question of unemployment, especially its most important aspect of finding work by expansion of markets both at home and abroad."

Explaining the structure of the national government, MacDonald said it must not involve the loss of the political identities of the parties forming it.

"The immediate tasks are temporary and when finished will be followed by normal political activities," he declared.

1700 Parliamentary Candidates

MacDonald will begin his personal campaign in Seaham Harbor on Monday, his sixty-fifth birthday. He is credited with holding the allegiance of 40 to 50 Labor members of Parliament and candidates in that district, in spite of the intention of Labor leaders to run a candidate against him. He will have a Communist opponent, the Conservatives and Liberals probably will give him a free hand.

Stanley Baldwin, leader of the Conservative party and President of the Council in the MacDonald ministry, tonight called on Conservatives and Unionists to support the National Government in the general election.

"We are not yet earning enough to pay for what we have bought abroad," he said, in an election manifesto, "and unless this situation can be altered, nothing can save us from ultimate bankruptcy."

War debts and reparations, armament and the unequal distribution of the world's gold supply are the outstanding issues which will face the next Government, he said.

Devaluation of the pound, he declared, is no valid substitute for [illegible] he declared, adding that he will continue to press upon the world my opinion that the tariff is the quickest and most effective method to reduce excessive imports and enable us to persuade others who tries to lower their tariff [illegible]

Lloyd George is understood to have padlocked his party "war chest," stimulating speculation as to the source from which several groups, headed by Sir John Simon and Sir Herbert Samuel, will get funds for campaign expenses.
